U. S. Holiday Death Toll Reaches 100

(By Associated Press)

One hundred traffic deaths were recorded in the first 24 hours of the Labor Day weekend, and the toll by drowning soared sharply, with

The traffic fatalities took a brief back-seat to the east coast drowning of a fishing boat, which was last spring to crush a Communist-backed waterfront strike which crippled this little south Pacific nation's maritime trade for 22 weeks.

Trophies will be awarded the winner of each event. Points count as follows: first place, five points; second place, three points and third place, two points.

A trophy will also be awarded to the high scorer for the day in both men and women's classes. The high-scoring "125" rider will also receive a trophy.

Contestants will register at Howard Griffin's and at Selman Field. Registration must be in by 2 p. m.

Pelican Girl Is Ill Of Pneumonia

Linda Hair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hair of Monroe, who became ill while attending Pelican Girls' State in Baton Rouge last week, is reported to have virus pneumonia.

Her physician said she was doing nicely Saturday.

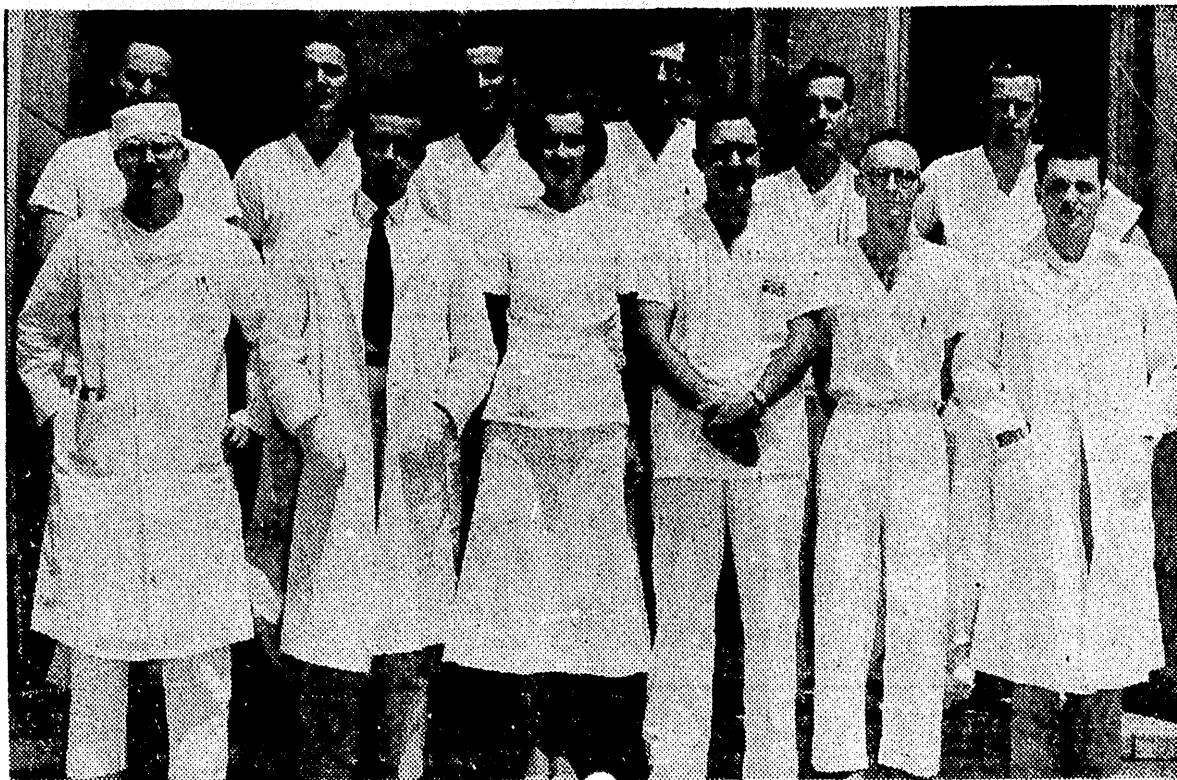

It was first believed that Miss Hair had polio but doctors in Baton Rouge said definitely she did not have polio.

Her physician stated that she is improving from the attack of pneumonia and is being treated in the Baton Rouge General Hospital.

She was attending Girls' State at the time she became ill. Miss Hair is a senior at Neville High School.

Her condition is reportedly improving, but it is a new sole plate put on.

New Resident Physicians' Staff Arrives At Conway

Eight New Doctors Are At Hospital Under Rotation System

Monroe welcomes the new staff of resident doctors who have arrived at Conway Memorial Hospital and are commencing their duties as rotating physicians.

The staff of ten doctors, excepting Dr. C. P. Gray, includes eight new residents, chief resident, Dr. Fred Sartor, and senior resident, Dr. John A. Hall, all of whom have obtained their M. D. degrees at various universities throughout the country.

A short resume including the legal addresses, the medical training, and experience received by the residents is as follows:

Dr. Fred Sartor, 30, from Alto, La., a graduate of the Louisiana State University School of medicine, received a year's internship at the Charity Hospital in Shreveport, and spent several years in the naval medical department.

Dr. Sartor is presently residing at 2700 South Grand.

Senior resident, Dr. John Hall, 26, of West Palm Beach, Fla., attended the Universities of Florida, Oklahoma A and M; graduated from the Tulane school of medicine and interned for a year at Charity Hospital, New Orleans.

Dr. Oliver Raney, 31, of Tulsa, Okla., received his degree in medicine at the University of Arkansas and served in the cavalry, artillery, and infantry divisions of the army during World War II. Dr. Raney is residing at 1407 Spencer street.

Dr. R. W. Freeman, 29, of San Antonio, Tex., attended Texas Wesleyan and Texas Christian University and graduated from Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, Tex.

Dr. Freeman served in the U. S. army medical department, was an army laboratory technician and food inspector, served as a medical student laboratory technician at Pennsylvania Avenue Hospital, Fort Worth, Tex., was a medical investigator and epidemiologist for the National Cancer Institute, was an employee of the U. S. public health service, and received his internship as a 1st lieutenant in the army.

Dr. Freeman resides here at 3301 South Grand.

Dr. Helen G. Jones, 24, of Memphis, Tenn., attended Vanderbilt College and graduated from the school of medicine at the University of Tennessee. Dr. Jones received her internship at St. Joseph's Hospital in Memphis. She and her husband, Dr. William Jones, also a new resident, doctor, reside at 116½ Hudson Lane.

Dr. William D. Jones, 29, also of Memphis, Tenn., attended Mississippi State College and graduated from the University of Tennessee medical college. He completed a year's internship at John Gaston Hospital, Memphis.

Dr. K. B. Kennedy, 29, of St. Louis, Mo., received his medical training at the University of Arkansas medical college. Dr. Kennedy is presently residing at 1401 South Grand.

Dr. R. L. Fuller, 30, of Clayton, Mo., attended Murray State College, Kentucky, and received his M. D. degree at the Washington University of medicine in St. Louis, Mo. He then completed a year of internship at the St. Louis City Hospital. Dr. Fuller resides at 707 McGuire avenue.

Dr. W. W. Abbott, 31, of Little Rock, Ark., graduated from the University of Arkansas Medical College, was a pilot for three years in the U. S. army air corps, and received his internship at the Arkansas Baptist Hospital.

Dr. George Dorman, 32, of Oxford, Ala., is a graduate of the University of Arkansas medical college, and interned for a year in the army.

Dr. J. S. Robinette, 29, of Conway, Ark., graduated from the University of Arkansas medical college and spent some time as a captain with the U. S. army infantry division.

Dr. Robinette is residing at 210 Roselawn.

Dr. Frank G. Rieger, 28, of Baton Rouge, is a graduate of the Louisiana State University medical college, and served in the medical department of the U. S. army.

Dr. Rieger is presently residing at 122 North 2nd.

The eight new resident doctors are scheduled to remain here two years all the while working on a rotating basis which means that they will be assigned all of the

Last Rites Held For C. E. Faulk

Funeral services for Clarence E. Faulk, Sr., 73, nationally known Delta Air Lines promoter, were held in the Mulhearn Funeral Chapel at 4 p. m. yesterday, with the Rev. Hugh E. Bradshaw, pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church in West Monroe, assisted by the Rev. Ernest D. Holloway, officiating. Interment followed in the Hasley Cemetery under the direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Mr. Faulk, former owner and publisher of the Monroe Daily Star, died in a local hospital early Friday where he had been a patient for nearly three weeks.

He was well known for his connections with the Delta Air Lines, which he established as one of the outstanding financial successes throughout his long business career. Mr. Faulk sold his interest in the News Star publishing company and devoted his time and energies to the development of the Delta Air Lines, which is now a leader in the southern air-line field. He was a large stockholder and president of the Delta from 1935 until 1945 when he was elected chairman of the board of directors, a position he was holding at the time of his death.

Mr. Faulk was a leader in the business world and a heavy contributor to many local business enterprises, although he requested that little publicity be given to his generosity.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josephine Faulk; two sons and a daughter, Clarence E. Faulk, Jr., Ruston newspaper publisher, Robert Faulk, Delta Air Lines pilot, Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Eleanor Cone, Paris, France and Monroe; besides four brothers and sisters, all of Monroe.

Pallbearers were C. E. Woolman, Atlanta, Ga., Joseph S. Amman, George M. Snellings, Jr., George A. Miller, Floyd L. Martin, W. Gilbert Faulk, David F. Russell and John Peek McKee.

Funeral services will be held in nine hospital sections at varying intervals.

The nine sections with which the doctors will work alternately include: The admitting room, white female surgery and medicine wards, colored female surgery and medicine wards, white male and colored male surgery and medicine wards, pediatrics, (children's ward) and obstetrics.

Dr. Gray, director and head physician for Charity Hospital, made the statement that he was looking forward to working with an admirable group of doctors.

Tour Of Business Education Teachers Widely Interesting

A novel month-long summer course for Louisiana business education teachers, which covered some 4000 miles through the eastern half of the United States, has captured the interest of a number of other educational groups of the nation.

Miss Gladys Peck, supervisor of business education of the state department of education, reported today that inquiries have been received from the departments of education of Kansas, Mississippi and Virginia and from the University of Indiana.

Miss Peck, who planned the trip, and 14 teachers of business education from various Louisiana schools left Baton Rouge on June 15 for the University of Pittsburgh, where they spent two weeks studying tests and measurements in business education.

From Pittsburgh, the group moved in its chartered bus to the University of Kentucky at Lexington for another two weeks of study on trends in business education, returning to Baton Rouge on July 15, advanced, as one of the traveling teachers expressed it, "not only in business education but in geography as well."

Side trips and tours during their resident study took the Louisiana teachers to Washington, D. C., Niagara Falls, Toronto, Canada, the University of Indiana at Bloomington and other points of interest.

They attended an operetta, a baseball game and a horse show, toured one of the nation's largest book publishing houses and a canning plant, and otherwise enjoyed themselves during their off hours.

The teachers earned graduate credit for four college hours of study at the two universities, the supervisor said, at a cost of $300 for the month-long course. An earlier group of four of the teachers, with Miss Peck as consultant, had earned three additional hours of credit at the University of Mississippi at Oxford just before the eastern trip began.

"This method of study is new from an educational standpoint," Miss Peck declared, "and it has aroused a great deal of interest in other states."

In addition to the state supervisor, teachers taking the courses were Mrs. Nell Spinks, Byrd High School, Shreveport; Miss Beulah Word, Minden; Miss Ruth Duley, Lillie; Mrs. Ruby Baxter, Grayson; Miss Maude Chaney, Wisner; Mrs. Alden Badaux, Opelousas; Mrs. Wilda Riehl, Eunice; Miss Doris Bankston, Ponchatoula; Mrs. Pat

Byrne, Baton Rouge; Miss Duff, Mansfield; Miss Errard, New Orleans; Mrs. Shaw, Franklinton.

Clarence Eugene Faulk, Sr.

Clarence Eugene Faulk, Sr., whose death occurred here Friday morning, led a decidedly unusual life, one that reached out from the confines of the Twin Cities and north Louisiana to a far flung area reached by expanding airline service. His influence was widespread, he was a pioneer off the already beaten path. His unusual successes were made possible through possession of a far-reaching vision, rigid honesty and a determination that recognized no compromise in achieving goals that he sought.

With only a grammar school education, he husbanded his scanty earnings until in time he was proud half-owner of the News-Star. But the goal was still far distant. Some added years found him sole owner of a well-established News-Star, which was a newspaper of sufficient influence to play a highly important role in the formative years of the Twin Cities. Through his newspaper, Mr. Faulk espoused every constructive cause, and in the era from 1920 to 1930, many downtown buildings, the ornate Ouachita parish courthouse and expanded school systems were owed to the rapidly growing city. Mr. Faulk was ever in the forefront of this progress.

When he sold his News-Star to the Ewing interests for a very substantial sum of money, many anticipated that Mr. Faulk would retire and enjoy the fruits of his toil. But he was too active a man to rest on his oars. Still bigger goals were not too distant. With considerable investment in the new and promising Delta Airlines, Mr. Faulk, together with such men as C. E. Woolman and Travis Oliver, entered into a new and for them untried experiment. Once more Mr. Faulk's vision paid off. He became president of Delta Airways and year by year, ever since, this system has become more and more firmly entrenched as one of the nation's great air carrier systems.

It is quite an unusual man who can achieve outstanding success, only a few years apart, in two widely divergent lines. Mr. Faulk's vision and determination are the explanation in his case. He possessed the ability to select associates around him who were naturally adapted for their work, he encouraged them in every possible manner so that they could feel assured that they were giving satisfaction. In return they gave him the best that was in them. And he expected and accepted nothing short of this contribution.

Mr. Faulk was a man of positive views on most subjects which was given evidence in connection with his stand on the Ku Klux Klan. This from the outset attracted his enmity as completely discordant with human rights and our vaunted Democracy. In support of his stand he made certain sacrifices but in the end it was shown that he had acted in the right.

While success attended business ventures, he also found time for civic affairs, with possibly special emphasis on the local chapter of the American Red Cross, the council of the Boy Scouts of America and the Louisiana Training Institute. In all of these he held for years executive posts.

In his contribution of funds to various organizations he acted with extreme modesty, never divulging any donations made. From other inside sources, it is known that he was responsible for financing the higher education of a number of citizens well known hereabouts today.

Mr. Faulk rounded out a well spent, successful life. His passing will be mourned, and the niche he filled so well cannot be completely replaced in the Twin Cities.

Good Citizens

Seldom do we find in our time a small group which works throughout the year for betterment, but never demands or requests recognition for the progressive ideas which it installs.

Monroe is privileged to have such a group of industrious women.

The Beautification Board for the City of Monroe, headed by its president, Miss Louise Biedenhorn, has established a goal to beautify Monroe by planting shrubbery, trees, flowers, and seeing that property in the city is maintained in such a way that both the resident and tourist have the benefit of seeing a well-kept city.

These women attain their goal in a quiet and unassuming manner, so that citizens are able to see their accomplishments but are not aware who is responsible for the good work.

The next time you take a pleasure drive through the city and remark on the beautiful trees which are planted along many streets, the blooming flowers, and the manner in which municipal parks are maintained, the Beautification Board for the city deserves the credit.

This group of courageous women has accomplished a great deal, but each plans in the future to further many projects to make Monroe one of the prettiest cities in the state.

Labor Can Contribute Much

The leaders of organized American labor face an opportunity. They can—if they will—contribute mightily at this hour to the well-being, the security and the morale of their country.

They can seize this chance in this way:

First of all, they can urge upon their rank and file a mood and spirit of service to the American people. With labor, as with too many groups in American society, the attitude often has been "I'll get mine," and the devil take the hindmost.

Union leaders might ask: "Why single labor out for Samaritan sacrifice when so many others are busy grabbing theirs?"

The answer is simple. Organized labor professes to be forward-looking, to concern itself with the interests of the whole people as well as its own membership. This is a moment to prove it. It's a thought for this Labor Day.

The battered consumer almost certainly is in for another inflationary twirl as defense spending rises to new heights, unless prices and wages can somehow be held down by a variety of controlling pressures.

Some of these lie within the province of government, but labor itself can play a large role by holding new wage demands to the absolute minimum commensurate with reasonable living standards.

It would be refreshing if labor leaders were to announce this as their goal. Thus far, since World War II wound up, we have had no break in the endless cycle of grabbing by all major segments of our society. For labor to provide that break would be an act of high statesmanship meriting the thanks of every American.

But a new mood of service would mean something besides less insistence on getting more. It would also mean a determination to give more.

Anyone who buys an American mass-produced product today, or tries to get one fixed once he's bought it, is sadly aware that pride of workmanship is largely a dream of the past.

The modern machine is a cold, impersonal thing. It discourages interest in a well-turned product. But in some fashion, labor, along with management, must meet this challenge. Careless workmanship is a painful commonplace in present-day America.

It's bad enough when it's your car or your stove. But when it's a tank or a plane or an army truck, lives can be lost through unthinking neglect.

Your newspapers tell you daily that in many quarters American ideals of honor and earnest service are not being observed. Labor is not exempt from the moral decline that has afflicted us.

Are its leaders big enough to recognize labor's shortcomings and to start the nation on a fresh trail back toward the ideals which it was founded to serve?

ON BROADWAY

Almost all writers of books, including the most successful ones, make part-time occupations of feeding that market. It is a precarious way to seek sustenance, let alone security.

Research shows that about half the popular titles are by on-story authors, those who have never before had publication, or who may wrangle a second, which flops.

"Kon Tiki" is the prime example of a single-tale career.

It is highly possible that James Jones will never follow "From Here to Eternity" which entails his experience of years in the regular army in a Hawaiian post, which took him seven years to write after that, and which is dependent on material out of those personal experiences.

I would put "The Caine Mutiny" in probably the same category. Unless Wouk again encounters a sustained adventure such as what he lived through in the navy, there is no assurance that he can repeat.

There are countless other parallels.

A handful—such as Earle Stanley Gardner, Hemingway, Faulkner, the late Sinclair Lewis, Steinbeck, James Cain, Taylor Caldwell, James Michener, can call themselves full-time professional authors—though almost all the "name" novelists have taken movie assignments or are now executing them.

Many bookmen are newspapermen or advertising or magazine editors.

Some, of late years, have had radio and television associations.

Then there are specialists, like the soldier—statesman, Carlos Romulo. His "The United" is a novelized—and excellent—inside story of the United Nations set-up, of which he is, of course, a conspicuous figure. He may come up again.

The generals who write, or about whom are written, volumes, have shot all the bolts they ever had or will have. That goes also for the Duke of Windsor, whose ghost compiled the unique autobiography which washed him out forever in the field, and even the magnificent Winston Churchill, who never got as far as a chronicler between covers until he led England through her blood, sweat, tears and triumph.

The Ellery Queen two-in-one team share editing a monthly magazine. William Bradford Huie is publishing the American Mercury. The Great Mencken was always a reporter—editor, and his old sidekick, the perennial critic, George Jean Nathan, knocks off a book occasionally.

There is a great deal of hokey about earnings of best seller authors.

The standard royalty contract calls for about 10 per cent of the gross retail sales. The average $3 "successful" book sells 10,000 copies, therefore $30,000 worth, which brings the writer $3,000. Of the three "confidential" books to date, Lee Mortimer and I have sold upwards of $350,000. Our royalties runs, with periodic bonuses, to 20 per cent, and I suppose we could live on the proceeds, plus returns from the 25-cent reprints of which only the New York entry has yet been released, and has been bought by more than 750,000 so far, with as many more in print.

We lead the league but we hang onto our newsroom jobs.

Men like Gardner, Cain, Burnett, Faulkner and others who can get up to a dozen of these soft-backs on the market can do handsomely through them alone. Gardner is tops, and I would guess his annual take on secondary rights runs to $50,000 a year; Cain's income from the same is a steady $15,000.

Not one in a score of the biggest sellers is bought by the movie studios. Of the current crop there will be scarcely enough to count on all fingers of one hand.

As a rule, authors can draw against future accountings, but they are regularly paid twice a year, and each time as of sales up to three months before each payment. That means that, except for a convention advance, if a writer turns in a script in December, and it is published in April, he will receive what is coming up to July in November and get nothing more until the end of the next May.

The reason for this is—many publishers do not sell outright but ship on consignment, or with provisions for return of unsold copies within certain periods. Our books are not so merchandised, but we have an exceptional deal.

The usual advance payment is $1,000. Most writers keep drawing as soon and as far as they are permitted to.

One first—novel author, about two months after publication, recently walked in and asked for $5,000 "against my share."

The bookkeeper looked up the figures.

He had $8 coming—and that was not due for four more months.

THESE DAYS

THE JAPANESE TREATY

It would be most unfortunate if, at this time, anything were to happen to lessen public support for the Japanese peace treaty. If American policy in Asia is to be effective, this treaty, together with the various treaties by which the Pacific Union is being formed, will not only be a symbol of strength but an indication that the policy of appeasement, continuous since 1943, has really come to an end.

There is a growing sentiment that General Douglas MacArthur, whose labors made such a treaty possible, should attend this conference and speak at it. This could have been accomplished in one of two ways.

1. To make him a member of the American delegation;
2. To have the conference invite him to speak to it.

The first door has been closed. The president has not invited him to be a member of the American delegation, although he spent several years working on the basis for this treaty.

As for the second method, the Russians surely, and the British probably, will reject him. At any rate, it would surprise everybody, including General MacArthur, if such an invitation were issued.

The State Department went about it in the wrong way. They sounded out the general and let it leak to the press that they were sounding him out. To do what? To make a speech?

But why make a speech? For whom would he speak? For his country? For his government? For himself?

In a word, they would like to have the advantage of General MacArthur's support of the treaty without giving him credit for his labors or recognizing him in any official capacity.

This kind of indirect dealing he correctly rejected as not fitting and that ended that.

Also, the absence of China, which had fought Japan since 1931, is an error. So far as the United States and the United Nations are concerned, there is only one legally recognized China, namely, Nationalist China situated on Formosa.

Failure of this China to be present raises issues that will long plague us. It creates a quarrelsome public opinion in this country.

Yet, it is of the utmost importance, from a strictly American standpoint, that public opinion in the United States should support and uphold the State Department on this treaty. Without it, forces may be let loose in Japan that may imperil our position in the east of Asia even more than it is today, because Japanese public opinion has been keyed to great expectations. Another letdown, after the MacArthur dismissal, might be very damaging. The absence of both MacArthur and China gives the impression that the State Department is still under the British thumb.

The treaty itself could perhaps be improved here and there, but so could many other documents. I think it is just about as good as we can at this moment arrange, and further delay would not be advantageous.

For what is at stake is not only Japan, but the Bastion, Japan-Okinawa—Philippines—Formosa—Australia—New Zealand. That line must be held if we are to be in a defensible position. That is one fact that came out of the long 2,000,000-word palaver in the Russell Committee hearings into the dismissal of General MacArthur.

No matter how objectionable it may be to many persons in many countries, the fact remains that because of geography, propinquity and history, Japan must be the

DOWN SOUTH

THE CONFEDERATE FLAG

An Associated Press dispatch from New Jersey states that a rapidly spreading fad of displaying small Confederate flags in various ways, especially by teen-agers, is drawing considerable protest from northern sympathizers who are "rallying around" to defeat the "invasion."

The chaplain of a chapter of the Sons of Union Veterans terms the fad "improper and entirely out of order." The Confederate flag, he says, "went out of existence at the end of the Civil War. This fad is dangerous."

What is puzzling the people of the area a great deal is how the custom happened to get started. Some say it is due to a recent Shriner's convention in New York City, when small Confederate flags were passed out; others think it is a result of the revolt of the Dixiecrats at the 1948 Democratic convention, when they marched out of the convention hall with Confederate flags flying.

As a matter of fact, the writer of the AP dispatch and New Jersey itself are late awakening to a movement that has been growing rapidly throughout the country, from Miami to Maine and on back into the hinterland, for some time now. One who has done much traveling in recent years and particularly in recent months is quite aware of the fact that this "fad" is by no means restricted to northern New Jersey.

And rather strange to say, it is the people from the north who are more eager to adopt the flag-flying custom than are even the southerners. Not that the southerners are not doing it—they are—but it is something they have more or less lived with all their lives and it is not so new to them.

It is interpreting the reason back of this movement that its importance lies.

In my opinion, this movement is a visible indication of a growing resentment against the centralization of power in Washington. Such centralization is directly contrary to all the principles underlying the American form of government, and there is undoubtedly a deep-seated feeling upon the part of the American people that it must not be allowed to continue and to grow.

The fad is not "dangerous," as the northern chaplain so incorrectly interprets it. It does not represent an effort on the part of any person or any state to secede from the union. At least, it is only "dangerous" to those who do not believe in our traditional form of government.

The Confederate flag stands for an ideal. It stands for freedom of the individual—and this is not just a southern ideal. It stands for local self-government—and this is not an ideal confined to the south.

Moreover, the Confederate flag stands for a good, clean fight—and that is something Americans love. The Confederacy lost its war—but its cause was not lost. This cause has continued to thrive through the years and is now recognized by thinking people, both north and south, to represent the best hope for the preservation of the America founded for us by our forefathers. That cause is the right of the individual to carve out his own destiny and not have it planned for him by a central bureaucracy; that cause is the right of the local government to determine what is best for its people and not have this question decided by a far-removed agency.

The flying of the Confederate flag at this time may very well mean that the people of this country want to see the issues joined in the days immediately ahead; that they want

In Washington With
BASCOM TIMMONS

If there is a sense of humor in Washington these days, it must be pinpointed by Vice President Alben W. Barkley who, in highly untraditional fashion, has declared his candidacy for renomination—at the ripe age of 75—before President Truman has given any definite word about his own plans.

The "Veep" has that broad sense of humor which seems to be dwindling in American public life, which is not aimed at anyone, doesn't bite and doesn't burn, but any American of which is so typically American that it flies from mouth to mouth. Vice President Garner had some of it, but not as much as Barkley, because Garner did not make a point of being a witty man.

But, now the present Veep, as this column intimated some time ago, realizes that another Kentuckian, Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the United States Supreme Court, is being mentioned for a place on the Democratic national ticket next year, and his success would mean that Barkley would not be there.

Vinson will be 62 next year against Barkley's 75, but the Veep almost pushed Harry S. Truman aside as the country's keenest elder statesman with his remark that, of course, a man of 70 nowadays is like a man of 50 at the turn of the century, now that this new branch of specialized medicine called geriatrics has established itself (the opposite of pediatrics). The vice-president meant it too, for since his second marriage in 1949, he has become the administration's social representative (the President and Mrs. Truman seldom go to parties) and is the sought after lion of the leading hostesses.

That is baffling to some organizations and some hostesses who used to be rebuffed before his marriage by his daughter—who was also his official hostess, and who used to tell even some who knew him well that he could only except two invitations a week, because he needed proper rest.

The daughter, Mrs. Max Trullitt and her husband, a leading Washington lawyer, took over some of his social duties until Trullitt was stricken severely ill, from which he is still convalescing, while his father—in-law continues an indispensable figure at the fancier lawn parties. But he does it so gracefully that he is highly popular here, as he seems to be over the country.

The Barkley story of the week is that after a television show at which he teamed with George Allen, the Mississippi hotel man who became a District Commissioner, a wit and author of "Presidents Who Have Known Me," the V. P. turned to Allen who has titled his T.V. show "Man of the Week," and philosophized.

"George, last year somebody very significantly called me 'The Man of the Century.' Then I got one of those awards for 'Man of the Year.' Now you've made me 'Man of the Week.' How soon do you suppose they'll promote me downstairs to 'Minute Man'?"

He is courteous rather than humorous at times, as the Vinson idea. It is mentioned in incident about 1948 when Barkley was still a senator, and Democratic fortunes in Kentucky did not look so good. He called on the Democratic National Chairman to suggest that Kentucky had had no important political appointment recently, maybe was entitled to something.

The chairman checked the state list and remarked:

"That's strange. It's recorded here that in the last three years, a Kentuckian has been an associate justice of the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington; director of the Office of Economy Stabilization, the Federal Loan Administrator, the director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconstruction, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Chief Justice of the United States. That's a pretty good showing for one state."

Barkley didn't beam—he didn't even smile.

"That's very true," he said. "At least it would be if they were all different people. But they aren't. It was all Fred Vinson!"

So Happy Chandler may not be the only native of the Blue Grass who has been unable to continue in a good job.

a clear-cut fight between the socialistic form of government now so urgently advocated by many in high places and the constitutional republican form of government which dignifies the individual rather than degrades him. If the fight is to be made mainly by the youth of this nation, so much the better—they are the ones who will take over in the not too distant future.

What Others Say EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

PROSPECTS IN IRAN

Editors in a substantial plurality remain hopeful that Iran, needing oil revenue and seeing the danger of possible Russian intervention, will agree to a reasonable settlement with Britain on nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. But to a large minority of editors the influence of anti-British Iranian nationalists, agitated by Communists, permits little hope of any settlement soon enough to save Iran from chaos and possible involvement in a new world crisis between Russia and the West. A smaller minority of editors sees little, in all the factors involved, to indicate at all clearly now what may happen in Iran.

New York Times (Ind.-Dem.): "There have been few developments in recent months more serious than the breakdown of the Iranian oil negotiations. . . . If, contrary to all indications and expectations, some last-minute miracle saves this vital industry from collapse and Iran herself from ruin, there will be great rejoicing everywhere outside the Communist ranks. Iran was producing nearly one-fifth of the entire world output of oil, of which more than half went to the Mediterranean countries and Western Europe, India, Pakistan, South Africa and other countries east of Suez depended on Iran for motor fuel."

Providence (R.I.) Journal (Ind.): "Hard facts will now have the opportunity to make themselves felt. There is not enough professional skill among the Iranians to manage, direct and operate the giant plants. The Iranian treasury is dependent upon taxes and commissions from the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. The depleted treasury can produce two results. It can bring the Iranians to their senses. . . . Or it can bring about a state of political chaos. It is with the hope that the Iranians will come to reason that the negotiators have concluded their talks."

Birmingham (Ala.) News (Ind.-Dem.): "The situation has broken down apparently over the same basic factor which originally caused the dispute. That is, Iran's determination to get more than about half of the profits from the oil resources brought up out of her arid earth. . . . Certainly Iran is in need of money. But from the first financial considerations have been secondary to a hot determination to show the British that Iranian are boss in Iran. Any approach which doesn't fully recognize this intent is likely to result in . . . no settlement."

Norfolk (Va.) Ledger-Dispatch (Ind.-Dem.): "The British insist on a 50-50 division of the profits, and this Premier Mossadegh has never accepted. But what seems to have brought about the breakdown is his unwillingness to concede that an Iranian manager shall direct the oil operations. He wants an Iranian or two to complicate the management structure, even though his government, as owner, would control the assets. What he has done is insist on the letter of the nationalization law. . . . One can only hope that the talks will resume when Tehran feels the full effect of its self-scouring unreality in this dispute."

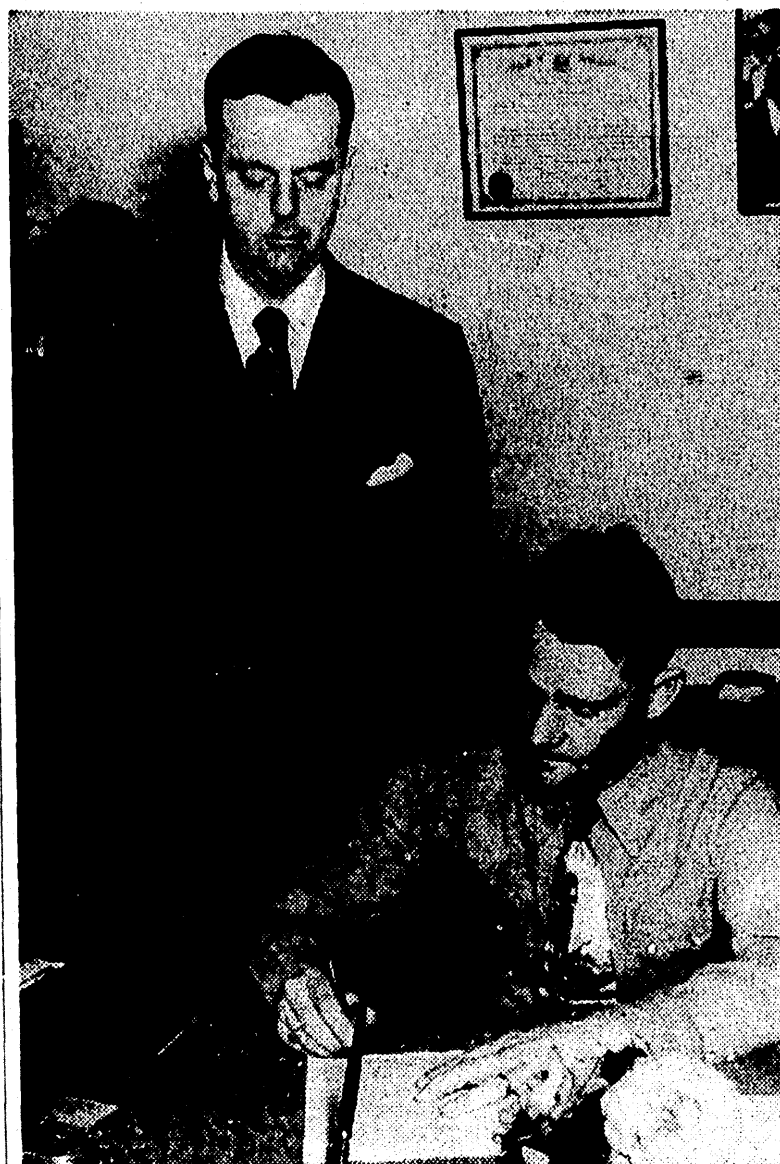

Miami (Fla.) Daily News (Dem.): "Fanatical nationalist sentiments in Iran, continuously agitated by the Communist party, have placed Mossadegh on a spot in which any appearance of compromise would be unacceptable. . . . The officially announced British position is to remain in Abadan until Iran permits oil production to resume. In order to protect its nationals there, British promises 'necessary measures' implying armed intervention. This would be an excuse for Russia (under an old treaty with Iran) to move into the area in the alleged interest of protecting its own frontier on the Northern Iranian border."

St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch (Ind.): "The Kremlin has touched off a call for a militant people's front in Iran which would 'direct the national liberation movement in Iran into the proper channels, so that it can fulfill its social-historic task.' That task is, of course, to bring Iran into the Communist sphere. Should the Soviets stir up new trouble in Iran, only prompt action by the British could save the Western-built oil fields from falling into Russian hands. The Iranian government should be able to see the outcome would put Iran in the position of becoming the center of a new world crisis, and accept a reasonable compromise."

Dayton (Ohio) News (Ind.-Dem.): "There is every reason to believe that Mossadegh would be willing to make a reasonable settlement with the British. . . . But the force that controls Iran is the force of the anti-British extremists, who threaten mob revolt and who dangle the sword of assassination over every government official who gives sign of 'weakness.' There seems to be little hope that the situation will change in the foreseeable future. British troops could be sent in to support the government but that might touch off immediate war with Russia, with most of the Iranians on the side of Russia."

MAYORS PROCLAIM "RODEO DAYS"

Mayors John Coon and C. C. Bell are shown signing a proclamation declaring September 5 through the 9 as "Rodeo Days" in the Twin Cities. Both Mayor Coon and Mayor Bell will be seen in the rodeo parade which will pass through the downtown streets of the Twin Cities at 3:30 p. m.

NAT'L GUARD TO GIVE RADIO SHOW

Mindy Carson and Red Barber Will Interview Leading Sportsmen

Capt. A. L. Stewart, headquarters company, Capt. A. L. Causey, Company "K", and Lt. J. L. Roberts, Company "I", local National Guard unit commanders announce that radio station KNOE will broadcast the new National Guard radio show beginning in September and running for 39 weeks as a public contribution.

Headlining the show this year will be Mindy Carson, one of the most popular singers on radio today, and Red Barber, nationally known sports broadcaster, who will interview, each week, a leading sports personality.

The show is built around Mindy Carson who climaxed her most successful year of radio and TV appearances last year, backed by her RCA recordings, with the honor of runner-up "female vocalist" for the 1951 Michaels Awards.

Red Barber, considered by many as one of the leading sports broadcasters in the nation, will bring to the program a warm personality plus an intimate knowledge of sports acquired during twenty years of covering major league and other sports attractions.

The sports celebrities on the programs are expected to increase the audience appeal of the show. Each will be an outstanding figure in his field such as Joe DiMaggio, Stan Musial, Ralph Kiner, Lou Little, Ben Hogan and Frank Parker.

The unit commanders said that the National Guard show was tremendously well received last year with over 1,700 radio stations throughout the country broadcasting the program.

They said that the patriotic contributions of the radio station were invaluable to the important recruiting effort of the local guard units.

"The local units and the entire National Guard needs many additional recruits to bring all units up to desired strength. They pointed out that during the past year over 1,400 National Guard units have been ordered into active military service and that the coming year it is necessary to rebuild the strength of the guard."

Contact one of these unit commanders or representatives at the army at 218 South Grand street or phone 8747 and arrange for an interview.

Illinois Central Official To Retire

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 1.—(P)—Walter Cunningham, Louisiana executive general agent for the Illinois Central Railroad, announces he will retire Sept. 30 after nearly half a century of service.

He is a member of the board of commissioners for Pontchartrain levee district, a director of the state department of commerce and industry, and a member of the Baton Rouge Chamber of Commerce.

Prior to the general agent's post, Cunningham was superintendent of the Vicksburg division 1939-44.

STABLE ADDED BY M'CORMICKS

Addition To Barn Will Be Modern And Complete Western Shop

The Barn one of West Monroe's most popular restaurants has enlarged its facilities and added the Stable which will be one of the most modern and complete western shops in the Twin Cities.

Owned and operated by Senator and Mrs. John McCormick of West Monroe, the Stable will have its formal opening at 10 a. m. Saturday.

Completely air-conditioned and finished in a natural varnished wood, the Stable will be a complete line of nationally advertised western clothes.

In connection with the opening, Mrs. McCormick is giving away a cowboy shirt to the lucky persons who register.

All employees of the Barn and Stable will be attired in blue jeans and western shirts for the formal opening.

In addition to the regular cowboy shirts, pants, jeans, boots, hats and belts, the Stable will carry a large stock of leather jackets.

The Stable will be managed by Mrs. Ellis Ross and will be open from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. Monday through Saturday.

Specializing in barbecue, the Barn's business has increased to such an extent, the McCormicks have found it necessary to make three additions to the establishment. The Stable is the latest addition.

There are 16 persons employed by the Barn which was first opened on Coleman street in West Monroe on February 10.

The Stable will carry western clothes for all ages, Mrs. McCormick said.

She extends a special invitation to all customers and friends to come by and inspect the new western shop during the formal opening Saturday.

J. W. M'CRAIN IS OUT FOR OFFICE

Seeks To Become Sheriff Of Franklin Parish; Is Former State Trooper

Winnsboro, La., Sept. 1.—(Special)—J. W. (Kit) McCain, 39-year-old Franklin parish native and former state trooper, has announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Franklin parish, subject to action by voters in the January 15, 1952, Democratic primary election.

The first announced candidate, who served as state trooper from January 3, 1945 to September 1, 1950 is married to the former Miss Katherine A. Price of Winnsboro. They have five daughters, Mary Katherine, Carol Sue, Lura Diana and twins—Pamela and Patricia.

The son of W. P. McCain and the late Mrs. Mary Katherine Hightower McCain, Winnsboro, is a graduate of the Winnsboro High School. Since his graduation he has been employed by the state department of highways, a cotton office, four years with a soft drink bottling company, has spent two years as a farmer and five years and nine months as a law enforcement officer with the state police. He resigned his position with the state to enter private business here.

In a statement issued today, Mr. McCain, known as "Kit" throughout this area, said:

"I am running as an independent candidate and am not connected with any faction or political organization whatsoever. If elected to this responsible office, I will fairly and impartially enforce the law and will have for the service of the public capable and efficient deputies. All calls will be answered when received and a deputy will be kept in the sheriff's office until midnight each Saturday."

"Partiality and favoritism have no place in law enforcement. A sheriff's department is a business and should be conducted as such. I earnestly solicit and will certainly appreciate any help from all who wish to see Franklin parish progress and develop in every conceivable manner."

Workshop For Teachers Is Set

A workshop for parish teachers will be held at the Ouachita Parish High School starting Tuesday, Sept. 4 and lasting through Friday, Sept. 7.

Dr. George Deer, from Louisiana State University, will lead the workshop, assisted by Superintendent Mack Avants and Mrs. Christine Williams, supervisor.

The theme of the program will be "Better Learning Through Understanding and Guidance."

Baptist Executive

DR. W. H. KNIGHT

Dr. W. H. Knight, executive secretary - treasurer of the executive board of the Louisiana Baptist convention, will be the featured speaker at the Ouachita Baptist pastor's conference which meets Monday at 10 a. m. at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church in West Monroe.

Rev. A. T. Mitchell is pastor of the Ridge Avenue Church.

Dr. Knight is a speaker in much demand and he has seen all phases of Louisiana Baptist work grow under his leadership. Baptist churches in Louisiana now number over 1,000.

Rev. H. L. Sampson is president of the pastor's conference composed of the pastors of the 34 Baptist churches in Ouachita parish. According to Rev. O. P. Bazer, secretary of the conference, a good program is in evidence with Rev. G. E. Johnson leading the devotional and Dr. Knight as the speaker.

DR. W. H. KNIGHT TO SPEAK HERE

Will Address Baptist Pastors' Conference Monday Morning

Dr. W. H. Knight, executive secretary of the Louisiana Baptist convention, will address the Ouachita pastors' conference in Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, West Monroe, Monday at 10 a. m.

He will discuss the new evangelistic, missionary and promotion plan of Louisiana Baptists. This new program was launched at the state convention in Alexandria last November and is the most extensive in the history of the denomination in the state work.

Doctor Knight was elected executive director and leader of the Baptist convention in 1940 and immediately launched a ten-year program which led to the greatest progress of apist work in its history. Approximately 200 new churches have been organized. The finances of the convention increased from less than $200,000 a year to more than a million. Louisiana Baptist College has grown from a small institution with less than 300 students to more than 1,000 with endowment of a million dollars.

New hospitals have been built at Baton Rouge, De Ridder, Homer and the one in Alexandria has been greatly enlarged.

Baptist pastors of this area are invited to attend the Monday meeting and hear Doctor Knight discuss plans for future work by the Baptist denomination.

FARM FAMILIES WILL BE AIDED

Agricultural Agencies Invite Suggestions On Rural Policies

Representatives of the various agricultural agencies of Ouachita parish, comprising the county agricultural mobilization committee, met recently to formulate plans for improving their services to family farmers.

As stated by Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture: "Our long-term goals for agriculture include safeguarding the traditional family farm principle, as a valuable American institution."

The family farmer has great potentialities in agriculture's mobilization for defense production as our nation mobilizes its resources—human and material. Farmers have the job of producing the food and fiber needed, and to go on producing it in the future.

Because it is so essential to our democracy that the family farm pattern be strengthened and preserved, agricultural agencies are seeking information on how these programs and activities can be made more effective in securing, maintaining and strengthening the family farm.

Meetings of various groups will be held soon and representatives of the extension service, farm credit administration, farmers home administration, production and marketing administration and soil conservation service will be on hand to receive suggestions on how each agency can better serve the farmer. The various agencies invite suggestions and recommendations from local citizens on improving any phase of agricultural work.

Group meetings will be announced at a later date.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, Monroe Morning World, Dear Sir:

Will you please publish the following letter.

HOW ABOUT THE PRICE OF COTTON

The farmers, as we all know, were promised a good price for the cotton they raised in 1951. I think it was a price of around 45 cents per pound. They needed, from all reports, a "bumper" crop this year, as nearly all of our surplus cotton, which we had on hand, had been disposed and we were short on cotton.

Back in early spring the government saw we needed a big crop. Restrictions of all kinds were thrown in the waste basket, as regarded cotton, and the government said to the cotton farmers, raise all the cotton you possibly can this year—the nation is going to need this cotton and need it badly. So the farmer did what the government asked them to do. They planted more cotton this year than they have for the past ten years. I think about 27 million acres, and we can safely expect some 7 million bales of cotton from the 27 million acres. Now, the farmers that raised that cotton (the chief money crop of the south) are not going to get near what they expected; hence they are very much dissatisfied with the price they are being offered. Cotton now is around 34 or 35 cents a pound. There is a big difference in what they are getting and what they were promised by the government. Why the difference? Answer that, yours if, but if you will follow me, I may be able to give you some valuable information on the subject.

I wish to say that I was raised in the cotton field, so to speak, and I know something about the cotton farmer's conditions and what he is up against. The farmers in general are always being promised something but seldom get very much. The farmers as a whole seem to be helpless so far as standing up and demanding their rights, as they should.

How many people can you count on your fingers that got even well fixed raising cotton? The whole truth is that there have been thousands of farmers that went into the cotton business that went broke and lost all their hard-earned dollars. There have been more that went broke "dabbling" with the stuff than the ones that have made a success. Cotton is a "trick" business from start to finish—it is a crop that must be started early in the spring and worked nearly all the year. It is a big gamble when you go to raising cotton. You gamble against the seasons, the insects of all kinds, rain, hail, and everything. The cotton farmer takes a big chance. He puts up his money, in advance, not knowing at the time if he will get one cent back. Now, against all of this, you will hear people (that never raise cotton) say that they can't see why a cotton farmer can't get rich raising cotton. You see these are people who don't know what it is all about.

The cotton farmers, along with all kinds of farmers, have been leasing out for years. They will tell you that. There is not, I presume, over one farm out of ten that is free of mortgage, today. The farmers living in the cities and towns also have their homes mortgaged.

It is a known fact that nowadays that a big percentage of us owe more than we can pay, yet we tell the world around us that we are prosperous.

Farmers, listen to me now. Do you want a better price for your cotton and cotton seed? Here's how to get it. You (all of you) that raise cotton and vote (and most of you do that) sit right down now before it's too late and write or wire your congressman and senators and tell them what you want them to do in regard to your cotton. Yes, send them a thousand or two letters every day for the next 30 days and I will guarantee you will get some quick results. They will even buy up some radio time to let you hear from them. They know they must do what the people want done, or else they won't be returned to congress. They all like that White House job and the salary it pays. Remember this! Did you know that the gamblers start gambling on your cotton before the seed goes in the ground. The gamblers and speculators of every kind make more out of the cotton crop than the people who do the work and produce the cotton. This should not be tolerated. Why doesn't the government buy the cotton? In almost any small town where cotton is marketed, you will find five or six cotton buyers, all buying for different companies and making a commission on the farmer's cotton. You know that the class of people that buy cotton never raise cotton—they can make more money out of cotton by letting the other fellow raise it and buying it from the producers.

Of course, as the cotton goes through so many hands, all making some profit off it, this naturally cuts down what the farmers should get for their cotton. Too much speculation on the farmer's products causes the speculators to get what the farmers should receive for the cotton. One man (a government buyer) could buy all the cotton the farmers produce in a cotton community—where there were thousands and thousands of bales of cotton produced. Yes, cotton is going down and will continue to go down.

Compared to what the farmers had to buy and the prices they were forced to pay for the things they had to have to produce this 17 million bales, they should get 60 cents a pound for their cotton. If cotton goes below the present price at which it is selling, it will not bring what it cost to produce and the cotton farmers will go broke all over the southland, because cotton is our money crop. Don't you think it's time for the farmers of America to wake up and do something about this most deplorable condition with which they are confronted, before it's too late? Better act now—tomorrow may be too late. Don't forget to take the matter up with your congressmen and senators. They can help you with your problems. Yours for better things for us all.

D. G. Chatham.

To whom it may concern: I, too, would like to say a few words about these schools, especially Okaloosa. Mr. Superintendent said by moving the high school from there it would save $26,000 a year. I wonder who he thinks believes that. There were six teachers taken from Okaloosa and everyone would know they are not paid that much each year.

Schools are to open on September 10 and here hasn't been any water at school all summer and probably won't be when time for school to open.

Then with all the board members supposed to be elected by the people, for interest of each ward, said board members work to suit themselves and their own interests. Board member in ward 7 is influenced by other board members in what he must do. Therefore, he is not interested in the welfare of the people in said ward.

MONROE, NATCHEZ OPEN SERIES HERE TODAY

Claude White To Hurl Opener For Sports

Al Heuser Due To Take Mound For Redskins; Odds Favor Men of Mazur, But Tribe Can Make It Tough

The 1951 Cotton States League playoffs get underway at 3 p.m. today at American Legion Memorial Stadium when the bitter 2-season-long rivalry will be renewed between the Monroe Sports and the Natchez Indians in a chips-down, no quarter-asked-or-given diamond vendetta.

Toasted by local fans and out-of-town onlookers, the Sports, led by their sophomore skipper, Al Mazur, will attempt to triumph over the invading Redskins from Mississippi in the semi-final best-of-seven round, a feat which escaped last year's second-placers from northeast Louisiana.

Finishing six full games ahead of second-place Greenwood, the Sports had comparatively easy sledding after repulsing the on-ward surge of the Dodgers in the early days of August.

The Mazurmen finished six full games ahead of the Baby Bums, but they had built up an eight-game lead on August 25, with six games to play.

Figures are deceiving, however, as local sportswriters and sports broadcasters contend the flag was won on the blazing, hot Sunday afternoon of August 5.

The Dodgers and the Sports were embroiled in a no-holds-barred contest after the visitors had topped a Saturday night clash to move within two and a half games of the Sports and held a 7-4 lead. In the bottom of the ninth, the Mazurmen staged a sudden rally with a walk, a double and a single to bring the tying run on first base and bring the tying run on first base and bring the tying run on first base.

weak - hitting, but slick - fielding Centerfielder Harvill Jakes, a mid-season acquisition from Clarksdale, to bat. The strategy dictated a bunt, but the skipper told him to hit away and the outfielder responded with a ringing triple to tie it up and scored a moment later on a single.

From then on the Sports weren't headed.

But the interest now is centered on the all-important playoffs and the odds favor the pennant - winners. A short series, however, can upset the percentages in a twinkling of an eye and the George Torres-led nine from the Bluff City on the Mississippi stands an excellent chance to oust the champs from the competition.

A pair of right-handers probably will start against each other in the opener with Claude White, a definite starter for Mazur, who won 15 and lost 11 during the season, split four decisions with the Tribe. White was lost to the Sports during the vital August drive when he attended the annual national guard camp and he has been rounding into shape since returning two weeks ago. In his last outing he has limited the Indians to one run and only three hits until the ninth when they got to him for three tallies and the ball game.

Opposing the Oil City, La., strikeout specialist (he has whiffed 143), probably will be Al Heuser, handsome Louisville, Ky., veteran, whose 8-7 record belies his actual worth. Heuser, who didn't join the Indians until June, allowed only 40 earned runs in 139 2-3 innings for a 2.59 earned run average, second only to Monroe's Billy Muffett who compiled a league - leading 2.30. Heuser won one and lost one to the Sports during the season.

Muffett, undoubtedly, will get the call in the second game and Lefty Al Point, a 6-1 winner during the year, is expected to be Mazur's choice in the third game. Muffett won 22 and lost 9 this year and was named the league's Most Valuable Player in a walkaway. Incidentally, he will receive a trophy emblematic of the honor preceding today's tilt.

Torres is expected to go with right-hander Don Rodd in the second game although Don Ferguson may get the call. Rodd had a 16-9 record while Ferguson's was 17-3

Natchez boasts three of the league's leading hitters in Center Fielder Jim Gilbert (.352); First Baseman Bill Jones (.338) and George Ruzina (.336), and the club hit .270 as a team.

Monroe had only one performer in the topmost ranks of the loop's hitters. That was Shreveport's Bobby Greene who came through with an even .330. First Baseman Johnny Jones, rookie "phee - nom," fell below the magic circle in the waning days of the race and ended at .297, but the Talco, Tex., thumper led the league in triples with 15, slammed out 33 doubles, six home runs and drove in 90 runs.

The Sports infield defense would equal any in Class C baseball and the 150 double plays pulled adequately proves that statement. It was the inner setup and the hurling which put the Mazurmen into the king's row of the 50-year-old deep south circuit.

The hurling was something to behold with an overall earned run average of 3.07 and 17 shutouts spread among the staff members, Muffett and Darvin Chriscio authored six calclimnings each and the latter chunker included the league's only no-hitter among his accomplishments. He also boasted a one-hitter against powerful El Dorado. Chriscio's record was 12-8. The remainder of the staff was Bill Knoke with 13-7, and rookie southpaw Gene "Arky" Bowden with 10-8.

In seasonal competition, Monroe and Natchez divided their 20 games with each other, each winning six of ten in its own park, but Monroe routed their chief competitors for first place, taking third place Pine Bluff in 14 or 20 tilts and copping 13 from Greenwood's second pacers. Muffett was especially effective against the Judges, starting eight games against them, finishing eight and winning eight!

After alternating with El Dorado during the early weeks of the season, the Mazurmen moved into the first place on June 13 and, with the exception of one day at mid-season, they never were out of the top dog spot.

The Sports boasted a fine season in their home park where they won 50 while losing 20. They were ahead on the road with 39 wins against 31 losses.

After alternating with El Dorado during the early weeks of the season, the Mazurmen moved into the first place on June 13 and, with the exception of one day at mid-season, they never were out of the top dog spot.

Last Of Original Cage Performers Is Buried

New Bedford, Mass., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Funeral services for William R. Chase, who had been the last survivor of the first Springfield College basketball team organized by Dr. James Naismith in 1891, were held here today at the North Congregational Church. He died Thursday, at the age of 84.

Newport Stakes Captured By River Divide's Service

Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The River Divide farm's Service, well rated by Charley Burr, the nation's leading jockey, scored by three-quarters of a length over R. B. Carroll's Saddle Tramp in the $8,000 Newport Stakes today at Narragansett Park.

Service stepped the six furlongs in 1:13 1-5. T. C. Melrose's Lost Story, favorite in the seven-horse field was third, three lengths back of Saddle Tramp.

Service paid $6.40, $3.40 and $2.40 Saddle Tramp, closing at 29-1, returned $12.40 and $4.00 and Lost Story $2.20.

Vollmer Leaves Red Sox For Funeral Of Father

Ed's Pride Takes Playground 'Cap

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Edward P. Rodriguez's Ed's Pride swept the two major juvenile events at Atlantic City when he raced to a head triumph today in the sixth running of the $15,000-added World's Playground Handicap.

The 2-year-old colt, victor of the Inaugural Handicap here, came from off the pace to run down High Ground stable's even money choice, Landsear, in the final furlong of the three-quarter mile dash.

Max Kahlbaum's Jampol was three lengths off Landsear to earn third money in the field of nine juveniles. R. C. Hanna's Candle Wood was fourth another length away.

Although Ed's Pride had defeated Landsear in the Inaugural Handicap on opening day he was permitted to go postward at 7-1 and paid his backers in the crowd of 23,462 a tidy $16.20, $4.00 and $2.40. Landsear returned $2.80, $2.40 and Jampol, $7.40.

DOSS TAKES COTTON STATES GOLF M

BAYOU DESIARD'S 3RD ANNUAL SHOW BEGINNING TODAY

Golfers In Thirteen Flights Paired For Amateur Labor Day Event

Jackie Doss, the 18-year-old Monroe youngster enrolling this year at L.S.U. after sweeping the state high school championship for Neville High last spring, fired a two-under-par 68 yesterday to take medal honors for the third annual Cotton States Invitational Tournament opening today over the new 18-hole course at Bayou Desiard Country Club and running through tomorrow.

Doss, who was a semi-finalist in the Louisiana amateur this year and a quarter-finalist in the National Jaycee meet at Durham, N.C., set a new course record for the Bayou layout, beating the old mark by one stroke.

Crashing the championship flight with Doss were Montie Sanders, the hot shot from Marshall, Tex.; Kenneth Holt, West Monroe; Paul Jones, Bastrop; Don January, North Texas State Teachers; Walter G. Johnson, Jackson, Miss.; Bill Jones, Monroe; "Bo" Mosses, Monroe; Max Dollar, Bastrop; Clyde Nash, Monroe; Johnny Myers, Bastrop; Harold McClendon; B. T. A. Brulte, Monroe; Louis Whitfield, Monroe; Allan Andrews, Bastrop; and Orrin Whittington, Shreveport.

Whittington barely made the grade, breaking out Dickie Touchstone, E. E. Lawson, and Herbie Holmes after they had finished the regulation qualifying distance with 77s. In a sudden death playoff, Whittington birdied the first hole to win the championship spot.

Runners - up to Doss for the medal were January, Dollar, and Myers in a three-way tie with even par 70s.

Doss' card was:

Par Out 444 345 434-35
Doss Out 543 336 335-34
Par In 445 353 443-35-70
Doss In 445 353 343-34-68

The sixth and seventh flights lead off the tourney this morning at 6 o'clock. The championship flight moves into action at 9 o'clock. All matches from the championship through the sixth flight will be for 18 holes. From the seventh through the thirteenth the matches will go nine holes.

A quartet of amateurs, Bobby Guerrero, Harold McClendon, Bill Jones, and Earl Harter, took top honors in yesterday afternoon's pro-amateur tourney but couldn't claim the cash since they were amateurs. They had a best ball of 63.

The pro-am team headed by Tilden Austin, new pro at McGuire Park, West Monroe, was the prize winner with a 64. Austin, the collecting pro, was teamed with Jackie Doss, Max Dollar, and Bobby Kellogg.

Four teams were tied for third with 65s. They were Winnie Cole, host pro, with amateurs F. S. "Shep" Girault, Paul Jones, and E. B. Paddy; Pro Milo Mattinson, Bastrop, with amateurs Brice Pirtle, Aubrey Bowles, and Johnny Myers; the team of C. J. Turpin, Don January, Curtis Joyner, and Herbie Holmes, and Pro John Hanc, Ruston, and Amos Shelton, Gene McClone, and J. R. Sistrunk.

Three other sets tied at 66. They were Pro H. A. Britt, Municipal, Club, and E. L. Lawson, Jr., Mosses, and Dr. T. Brulte; Pro Leonard Warren, Lafayette, and Jack Doucet, Walter Johnson, and Owen McCreary and Clyde Nash, Jack Epling, Allan Andrews, and Bobby Oliver.

The low pro scorer for the day was Cole, the Bayou host, with an even 70.

The pairings and tee times for first round matches:

Championship - Jackie Doss vs. Montie Sanders and Kenneth Holt vs. Paul Jones, 9 a. m.; Don January vs. Walter G. Johnson and Bill Jones vs. "Bo" Mosses, 9:07; Max Dollar vs. Clyde Nash and Johnny Myers vs. Harold McClendon, 9:15; Dr. T. A. Brulte vs. Louis Whitfield and Allan Andrews vs. Orrin Whittington, 9:22.

First flight (8:30 a. m.) - E. N. Hemphill vs. E. B. Paddy, Lonnie Boddie vs. Jamie Collins, E. E. Lawson vs. O. L. McClary, Jay Jones vs. Amos Shelton, Herbie Holmes vs. D. J. Smith Jr., J. K. Sistrunk vs. J. C. Rudolph, Dickie Touchstone vs. Harold Woods, and Robert Guerrero vs. Earl Woods.

Northeast Indians To Rely Heavily On Freshman Backs For '51 Season

Malone Can Produce An Almost All-Veteran Forward Wall

"We'll depend on freshman backs almost all together to carry us through the season," Coach James L. Malone declared last night as the Indians of Northeast State College ended their first week of training before plunging into their first season of competition against four-year schools.

"Some veterans have returned," Malone continued, "but we'll be leaning heavily on the frosh." Already a first line set of freshman ball handlers looms as Bob Carter, Ouachita Parish High's Associated Press All-State halfback last year; Bill Lee, classy ace from Oak Grove; "Tex" Singletary, Newton, Tex.; Jimmy Childress, Ruston, and Speed DeToure, Greensburg, Pa. Ted Miller, Jr., from Winstboro, Tex., is another getting plenty of consideration.

Quarterback Lloyd Ray, a junior from Haynesville and a member of the Indian squad the past two seasons, gives the Tribe a seasoned performer to go with the imposing frosh.

Except for one slot, Malone can produce an all-veteran line. Percy Wheeler, up from Ouachita, may nail down the left guard slot. Another to give lettermen a race is Lloyd Andrews, all-state tackle from Tallulah.

Ronald Gunter, former Neville star, is a transfer end from Hinds Junior College who will be able to do the Tribe a lot of good.

The camp has already displayed three good punters in Harry Hubenthal, one of Northeast's best distance kickers last year, E. J. Sifers of Monroe, and Francis Baker, 215-pound end from Shreveport.

Sterling Cops Softball Crown

The Sterling Baptists, trailing one game in the final playoffs in the Church League, won a double header last night over the West Monroe Baptists, defeating them 10-8 and 2-3, and winning the championship of the league.

Fuller, pitching for the Sterling Baptists, went through both games without relief. McDougle caught for Fuller.

Lee and Nevils was the losing battery in the first game, and Phillips and Nevils were the losers in the second.

Leading hitters for the Sterling Baptists were Hardin, with a home run, Barnett, also a home run, and Dumas, with a triple.

Gold Seal Trips City All-Stars

Gold Seal Milk, champions of the City League, scored another victory last night over the City League All-Star team, edging the All-Stars out 9 to 8.

Gold Seal, trailing until the seventh walk, two grounders, and a single, which was hit by Wyatt Johnson, Gold Seal pitcher, went all the way for his team, pitching to Hood, against Pitchers Sullivan and Golsen and Catchers Downing and McKay, for the losers.

Leading hitters for Gold Seal were Kuykendall, with three hits, and Fontana and Wyatt with two each. George scored a home run for the losers, and Stewart and Dyer collected two hits each.

Gold Seal Milk played their regular players in this game, against the best players from each of the other five teams in the league.

Neville Opens With Bolton Here Friday, Ouachita Invades Homer

Football Takes Its Bow On The Local Scene Notwithstanding Weather

You wouldn't believe it by the weather, but the 1951 high school football season swings into action this week with the Neville High School Tigers presenting their first game of the season with a Friday night date against the Bolton High School Bears in Neville Stadium.

At the same time, the Ouachita Parish High School Lions will be on the road for a scrap at Homer with the Homer High School Pelicans. The Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans won't be behind. They meet the Mississippi Industrial School here Saturday. Coach Bill Ruple expects Bolton to furnish his charges with another of the rugged type of games they've been playing the last few seasons. Neville eked out a 6-0 win over the Bruins last year. The season before they battled to a 6-6 tie.

Guy Carroll, the former Rayville High School coach, is the new mentor at Bolton after having several successful seasons as coach at LaGrange High in Lake Charles. Carroll is building a good club for Bolton.

PELICANS OPEN AGAINST M.I.S. AGAINST M.I.S.

Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans open their 13-game 1951 football schedule here next Saturday at 2 p. m. when they meet the gridiron team of the Mississippi Boy's Industrial School of Columbia, Mississippi.

The Pelis finished out four weeks of training this week, and although light and inexperienced, have begun to round into shape. The line is especially weak, having no experienced men whatever, although the backfield is somewhat better off, as one regular back and two lettermen are returning. Jimmy Foster, star left halfback of last season, is again expected to lead the locals, and will be greatly aided by Kenneth Crochet and Dick Whittington, lettermen, and Bobby Mine, who has been looking good in the fullback position. Dick Hall another first year back has been looking impressive in recent workouts.

The starting line for the Saturday contest has by no means been selected, but will probably be chosen from Fisette, Jaubert, or Humphrey ends; Wren Mitchell, Kapotsy, or Trahan, tackles; Roberts, Cooper, Borden, or Giori, guards; and Kuhn or Jackson, center.

Little is known here about the Mississippi team. This game, which is half of a home and home series to be played between the neighboring institutions, was arranged several months ago when A. L. Swanson, L. T. I. superintendent, visited the Mississippi school and worked out the games with Mr. Spurgeon Mayfield, M. B. I. S. superintendent.

Mr. Swanson, at that time, visited schools all across the south as he was working out plans for his very successful administration of the local institute. This will be the first football series ever played by L. T. I. with another school of the same type, and it will be an interesting series to watch. Several years ago the L. T. I. baseball team played a baseball series with the Arkansas Boys' School, which they won.

Mississippi will have one advantage over the Pelicans in that their age limit for boys is one year older. Enrollment of the two schools is about the same.

The Mississippi team and coaches will arrive here in time to work out on Pelican Field Friday afternoon, and will eat their meals and sleep at L. T. I. Friday and Saturday nights, leaving after breakfast on Sunday. There will be a picture show for all the boys on Saturday night, and other entertainment for the visitors during their stay.

On the last weekend in November, the L. T. I. team will be the guests and Mississippi the hosts, when the local group visits Mississippi for three days.

Madhouse Matmen Signed For Team Rematch At Kallio's Tuesday

Harrell, O'Hara Coming Back For Renewal Of Olsen, Wright Feud

Last week's fire - eating tag teamers square off again Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Wrestling Arena after many fans, the referee and the wrestlers themselves asked for the match.

Henry Harrell, World's light heavyweight champion from Vicksburg, Miss., and Doran O'Hara team up against Rube Wright and "Tuffie" Olson again this week, after winning last week's event in one of the rowdiest shows ever held at Kallio's arena.

The fans, the referee and promoter Kallio himself all got into the action in last week's wild wrestlers. Wright, bald-headed villain from the middle-western circuit, got tossed out of the ring right into the arms of a belligerent fan who immediately started swinging a chair at the matman. In the ensuing scuffle a woman spectator was knocked unconscious and Wright barely escaped with his life after another customer joined the melee, also swinging a chair at the rowdy wrestler.

Wright managed to get back into the ring, however, and things were fairly peaceful after that until in the last fall, Olsen, Wright's partner, produced a strand of wire from his trunk and wrapped it around the neck of the champion, choking him until he was almost unconscious. Then the villainous pair pinned Harrell, but were disqualified for use of the wire.

After Wright and Olsen had left the ring, Harrell and O'Hara turned on Bill Barney, the referee, for letting the others use the wire, although Barney did not know until the match was over that they had used the wire. Kallio leaped into the ring to come to Barney's aid, and they worked him over for a while also, but the old matman gave the wrestlers a hard time before it was over.

Commissioner Dave Silverstein also had his say last week, and fined all four of the wrestlers $25 for too much roughhousing. He agreed to this week's bout only on the condition that there is police protection there on the night of the fight, to keep things in order in case of another riot. Kallio said that there would be plenty of police at the match, so Silverstein gave his okay.

The match will get under way at 8:15 p. m. and will have an hour and 15 minute time limit with two falls to win.

There will also be two short time-limit falls between wrestlers from the different tag teams, for the semi-final event.

BERNICE PROUD OF 'HOME' CLUB

Champions Of Big Eight League Find Talent In Own Back Yard

Ruston, La., Sept. 1.—(Special) —The Bernice Lions who defeated the Minden Red Birds 1 to 0 in the final game of the Big Eight League playoffs take great pride in boasting of a "home grown" baseball club. Only two players on the entire roster are considered foreigners and they are only "two wagon greasings" across the Union parish line in Arkansas. The remainder of the squad were born and bred in Union parish.

Henry Atrition, Johnny Bledsoe, Preston Copeland, Joe Pararr, Dunde Elliott, Philip Reeves, Jack, Bannon, Billy Till, and Ira Simpson are products of a Bernice High School. Bobby Elkins, Ben Carroll and Lefty Tom Smith are from Spearsville High School in Union parish. Believe Pete Adkins, who first saw the light of day in Claiborne has been adopted by Union parish.

Earl Benson and Jimmie Parker, the only "foreigners" on the club are just across the Union parish line in Arkansas. The term "home grown" can be applied to the Bernice club because when you shake a bush in Union parish instead of a rabbit jumping out it will be a ball player as they start early and their program consists of a Pee Wee team of youngsters, then a Buddy League which takes them to the age of 13, and then the six high school teams in Union parish plus the famous Farmville American Legion team makes a baseball laboratory that is hard to beat. Another factor that cannot be overlooked, Union parish also has another team in the Big Eight Farmville, which played in the Shaughnessy playoff.

Imagine the baseball fans of Dubach will challenge Bernice relative to a "home grown" team and they might win, but since Bernice won the Big Eight playoff, they are on the band wagon for 1951 so here's a basket of orchids for the winners, the boys of Union parish, their hard working business Manager Alon Bradley and his staff of business men of Bernice.

At times in our semi-pro baseball there are teams that cannot even boast of a single player from their own parish, that means outside payers must be secured which oftentimes involves considerable expense which causes financial worries that are hard to overcome. As a challenge to all baseball towns in north Louisiana, not that Bernice represents an ideal, but they do boast of a system that makes for results, you should take more interest in the youngsters, even down to the "dapper stage" when they first fall out of the cradle, encourage them, arrange for facilities so that they can play, and then ten years later when one of them poles one over the fence you can say that's Old Man Post's boy, and not, we got him from California.

YANKS' LOPAT BLANKS NATS ON THREE HITS

IRONX BOMBERS PROTECT MARGIN WITH 4 TO 0 WIN

DiMaggio, Woodling Lead Batting Parade With 3 Hits Apiece

Washington, Sept. 1.—Ed Lopat pitched three-hit ball and Joe DiMaggio and Gene Woodling got three hits apiece to lead the New York Yankees in a 4-0 shutout over the Washington Senators today.

President Truman saw the Senators in a different role from the one they memorialized today. Pre-game ceremonies went through the motions of replaying the 12th inning of the last game of the 1924 World Series, when the Senators beat the New York Giants—the only time they won the world championship. Many of the original players acted out their roles.

Lopat captured his 18th win in presenting the Yankees their 19th shutout conquest of the year, five at the expense of the Senators. Sid Hudson matched Lopat's shutout pitching for five innings with the aid of three double plays, but with two out in the sixth DiMaggio rammed a double over Sam Rice's head in center field and Yogi Berra scored him with a single to right.

The Yankees piled on three more runs in the seventh. Gil McDougald walked, stole second before Lopat popped out and moved to third when Phil Rizzuto grounded out Mickey Mantle walked and Woodling slammed a triple over Mele's head. DiMaggio's single to left scored Woodling.

Gil Coan singled in the first inning and Clyde Klutznick singled in the second for Washington, but Lopat retired 15 batters in order before Mike McCormick singled in the seventh. He raced to third when Mantle fumbled the ball but after Cass Michaels walked, Klutznick hit into a force play at second.

IRON LUNG FOR INJURED BOXER

Flores In Extremely Critical Condition Following 2nd Operation

New York, Sept. 1.—George Flores, 20-year-old Brooklyn welterweight boxer who has been in a coma since he was knocked out Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden, was placed in an iron lung tonight and his condition was described as "extremely critical."

An operation was performed on Flores' throat in an attempt to clear his breathing. The operation became necessary late in the afternoon when mucus began to accumulate in his throat and interfere with his breathing.

Dr. James Daniels, brain surgeon, and a throat specialist performed the operation. They had to cut open Flores' throat, clear it of mucus and insert a tube. Dr. Daniels said the boxer's condition had grown worse.

Up to the time of Dr. Daniels' announcement after the throat operation, hopes for his recovery had been rising. Improvement had been reported earlier yesterday, and the fact that despite his coma he had moved several times during the afternoon was regarded by doctors at St. Clare's as "very favorable."

Mrs. Flores, his young bride, though near collapse, refused to leave his side.

Word that the fighter's condition was falling through the hospital with lightning-like speed, many of the hospital patients keeping track of his fight for life by means of radio newscasts. There seemed to be a hush over the institution as staff and patients alike awaited further word about his condition.

Flores has been in a critical condition since collapsing in his dressing room after being knocked out by Roger Donoghue of Yonkers, N. Y., in the eighth and final round of the semi-final to the Kid Gavilan and Billy Graham welterweight fight.

Yogi Berra Draws $100 Fine For Pushing Umpire

Washington, D. C. Sept. 1.—Yogi Berra, catcher of the New York Yankees, was notified today he had been fined $100 by President Will Harridge, of the American League for grabbing and pushing Umpire Ed Hurley in protest of a decision in St. Louis Tuesday night.

Berra was banished from the game. It was at first feared the backstop, the Yanks' leading slugger, might be suspended. But Hurley apparently mitigated his report with a plea for leniency and only the fine was assessed. The club usually pays the fine in such cases.

GAMBLING DRAWS MORE ATTENTION

Committee Set Up To Study Influence On Pro, Amateur Sports

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 1.—A nationwide investigation of gambling in professional and amateur sports was set in motion today at the request of the federal government.

A spokesman for Attorney General J. Howard McGrath announced the appointment of a nine-man committee of sports leaders to study the influence of gambling on all kinds of both professional and amateur sports. The committee is headed by Francis T. Murray, director of athletics at the University of Pennsylvania and recently an unsuccessful campaigner against the National Collegiate Athletic Association's plan to restrict the televising of college football games this year.

The other members are among the most prominent figures in the sporting world in the country. They are:

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, race horse owner, representing racing. Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, boxing. Will Harridge, president of the American League, and Ford Frick, president of the National League, professional baseball.

Dana X. Bible, athletic director of the University of Texas, college football. Ned Irish, director of Madison Square Garden in New York, professional basketball.

Everett Dean, basketball coach at Stanford University, College basketball.

Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, professional football.

The announcement was made at a hastily summoned news conference by Drew J. T. O'Keefe, secretary of McGrath's conference on organized crime.

That conference, meeting first on February 15, 1950, led to the establishment of the senate investigating committee, under the chairmanship of Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), and Sen. Herbert O'Connor (D-Md.).

The college basketball gambling scandal broke into print late last winter when New York City officials arrested a number of gamblers and college basketball players, charging them with fixing the scores of games.

Since then, the scandal has spread into the Midwest. More than a score of game stars has been arrested. Some colleges have discontinued intercollegiate basketball.

O'Keefe said he could not predict "the direction of the investigation," adding that it was up to Murray's committee, McGrath and the attorney general's conference to decide what to take.

Both O'Keefe and Murray emphasized that the investigation should not be considered as "a black eye" for sports. As a matter of fact, Murray said "we may find that no action is necessary."

The government does not have the power to prosecute unless there is evidence of transporting "fix" funds across state lines or of using the mails for gambling purposes.

The conference and the Murray committee are expected to come up with recommendations for new laws—federal, state and/or municipal.

And, O'Keefe said in answer to a question, it is possible that the government will set up a new investigating committee, on the same pattern as the Kefauver committee, to conduct an investigation exclusively in the field of sports.

O'Keefe said that "the Murray committee is something the country definitely needs."

MOTORCYCLISTS IN SHOW TODAY

Annual Gypsy Tour Program Stated At Griffin's, Selman Field

Motorcyclist from throughout the state move on Monroe today for the annual Louisiana State Gypsy Tour, sponsored by the Gulf States Harley-Davidson Dealers Association and the Twin City Ramblers Motorcycle Club of Monroe.

Tour award registration will be held today at Howard Griffin's, 712 South Grand street, and at Selman Field where a special field meet will be conducted two blocks west of the northeast aviation hangar.

A special party for the motorcycle enthusiasts will be conducted tonight at the Boat Club and the Motorcycle Club house on the Ouachita river behind Howard Griffin's.

Events for the field show to begin this afternoon at 2 o'clock have been listed as follows with sponsors:

Stake race, sponsored by Brown Harley - Davidson; stop or lose race, Ray Byars; golf ball pickup race, Forest Myers; slow race, J. D. Clements; hammer and nail race, Gorman H. D. Sales; dig out race, Murphy Cycle Shop; load carrying race, John S. W. Werman; and 125 races for boys not over 18 years of age, Howard Griffin.

All contestants, required to register for the events not later than 1 o'clock, must be members of the American Motorcycle Association.

Trophies will be awarded winners of each event. Points will count as follows toward high score: Five for first, three for second, and two for third.

Special trophies will be presented to the day's high scorer for men and women and also be awarded high score for the "125" rider of the day.

HOPEFUL STAKES TAKEN BY COUSIN

Tom Fool Suffers First Setback In Feature At Saratoga Springs

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Cousin, a fast stepping bay colt carrying the cerise and white diamonds of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, turned on the speed in the stretch today to win the $62,900 Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga and stamp himself as the prospective eastern two-year-old champion.

Beaten a length one week ago here in the Grand Union Hotel Stakes by the Greentree stable's Tom Fool, Cousin turned the tables this time and handed the stable unbeaten Tom Fool his first defeat after three straight wins.

The margin was only a length and a quarter this time, but the crowd of 18,887 customers on hand under cloudy, cool skies, had no doubts the best colt won the 47th running of the Hopeful. They had established Tom Fool the 3 to 4 betting choice, with Cousin the second choice.

Tom Fool barely beat Bayard Sharp's Hannibal by a neck at the finish of the six and one-half furlong event. Only six juveniles started, after the late scratching of Color Guard, another Vanderbilt colt.

But Cousin, which now has accounted for six victories in eight starts, proved he didn't need any help from his stablemate.

The son of the imported French stallion, Priam 2nd, out of My Auntie stepped the route in 1:19.1-5 on a track termed only "good" after an overnight rain.

The Minor, another Greentree colt, finished fourth, 12 lengths behind Hannibal, with Ogden Phipps' Thymus fifth, and Peter A. Issaris' Paramount Pete last.

Those who liked chances in the mutuels got back $4.40, $2.10 and $2.10 for $2 across the board. The Greentree entry paid $2.10 and $2.10, and Hannibal was the same price to show.

There was a total minus pool on the place and show of $2,248.95.

Chicago Cubs Bringing Up Nine Players From Minors

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The Chicago Cubs announced today the recall of nine players from the minor league farms. They will report either at the end of their respective league seasons or playoffs or for spring training at Mesa, Ariz. The decision on reporting will be made later.

Four were recalled from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League including First Baseman Doc Foydy, Third Baseman Leon Brinkopf and Pitchers Warren Hacker and Doyle Lade.

In addition, the list includes Carmen Mauro, outfielder with Springfield of the International League, Pitcher Bob Schultz with Nashville of the Southern Association, Pitcher Andy Varga with Grand Rapids of the Central League, and Catcher Harry Chitt and First Baseman Fred Richards with Des Moines in the Western League.

All-America Drums Begin Beating With Another Grid Campaign Near

Nine Of Nation's Big Stars Of Year Ago Back For Another Whirl

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr. New York, Sept. 1.—The seldom-muted beat of the All-America drums will be heard with increasing clarity next week as some thousands of able-bodied, hungry men take up the serious business of practicing and playing intercollegiate football for three or four months.

A few teams got off to early starts in their drills during the past week; many other squads were scheduled to report this weekend and those in the comparatively conservative eastern and Big Ten areas will begin work right after Labor Day.

Football already has had more than its share of sensational headlines this year. There was the ex-ambassador scandal at West Point which wrecked an Army team that was expected to be about the best in the east. Several coaches quit for obscure reasons and other resigned with noisy blasts at their employers or the alumni.

Just prior to the opening of the season, the council of the National College Athletic Association suggested 12-point program of reforms, including curtailment of spring practice and schedules and strict curbs on recruiting and subsidizing of athletes.

Since the N.C.A.A. was virtually shorn of regulatory powers when the controversial "sanity code" was abandoned last winter, and since the 1951 recruiting season is over anyway, there's every indication that progress will be toward greater and more profitable insanity.

From here on until December, the emphasis will be on producing winning teams, better players and bigger game receipts.

Since freshmen were made eligible for immediate varsity competition in most conferences in anticipation of manpower shortages, there is a touch of uncertainty in most of the pre-season predictions. But in general, the boys who will score the touchdowns, throw the key blocks and make the tackles for the big teams will be experienced players whose names are familiar to the fans.

Nine players singled out for All-America honors last fall—five from the offensive lineup and four from the defensive team—are

Havana Is After Better Baseball

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 1.—Joe Cambria let it be known that he wants a place for his Havana Cubans in the Southern Association, the International League, or in a stepped-up Florida International League.

"Havana wants higher class baseball and I hope the powers that be in organized baseball in the United States will give us a hand," Joe said. "If something isn't done, we're going to wake up some morning with a corpse at our door. And that will mean a sad setback for baseball in a town which has talent, enthusiasm and a big gate."

Joe, veteran aide of Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators, owner of the Havana Cubans, said in an interview: "We need Class AA or AAA baseball in Havana. We are only Class B now, and Havana will not go for this."

It's no secret Joe's Cubans have had hard going this season. "It's because we're not giving Havana the summer baseball it wants," he said.

"We had a team that won the pennant five years since we started in 1946. Florida clubs in our Florida International League yapped their heads off that we were too good. They threatened to kick us out of the league for that. Truth is, Havana wanted even better baseball."

"We ought to be in the Southern Association, for example. Miami could take over Mobile's spot, and let Havana take Chattanooga's place. It would strengthen that league."

Since the Senators own Chattanooga, Joe was asked if anything that he knew of, he said, "I wish it were."

Pivot Troubles Plague Porkers

Fayetteville, Ark., Sept. 1.—The Arkansas Razorbacks were plagued with troubles at center, expected to be their strongest position, as they began practice for the 1951 football season today.

Jim Smith, senior letterman, missed the morning and afternoon drills with an ankle sprain suffered as he was leaving a movie theater last night. He caught his heel on the street curb and fell.

Charles Ramsey, a sophomore, became ill this morning and was taken to the university infirmary, where his ailment was diagnosed as kidney stones.

Another sophomore pivot man, Wayne Watkins, was hampered by an infection which set in after he jabbed a nail into his leg in his dormitory.

And, Had Coach Otis Douglas moaned: "Bob Griffin is 1-A in the draft."

Griffin is the highly touted senior center who was dismissed from the squad by Douglas last year for failing to attend classes. He was reinstated for this season.

Just to name a few names that will be heard frequently before the season ends:

East — Bob Zastrow and Paul Tetreault, Navy; Bob Spears, Yale; Bill Hegarty, Villanova; Dave Hickok and Brad Gallas, Princeton; Bob Evans, Penn and Russ Sandblom, Rutgers.

Midwest — Bob Carey and Don Coleman, Michigan state; Harland Carl, Wisconsin; Lowell P. F. F. F., Michigan; Jim Autscheller, Notre Dame; Lou D'Achille, Indiana; Bob Heid, Ohio state.

South — John Michaels, Gordon Pololsky and Andy Kozar Tennessee; Bobby Marlow, Alabama; Doug Mosely, Kentucky; Bob Schneidenschmidt, Miami; Billy Hair, Clemson; Ed Modzelewski, Maryland; Joe Dudeck, North Carolina. Southwest and Midlands: G. I. Bartosh, Texas Christian; Dick Lightowler, Southern Methodist; Bob Smith, Texas A. & M.; Billy Vessels, Oklahoma; Charlie Hoag, Kansas Merwin Hotel, Colorado; Johnny Bright, Drake.

Mountain states and Pacific coast: Doug Reeves, Wyoming; Dick Heath, Montana; Bill McColl, Stanford; Ollie Matson, San Francisco; Donn Moomaw, UCLA; Hugh McElhenney, Washington; Al Carmichael, Southern California.

The pre-season consensus, without trying to rank the teams exactly, lists these as the top college squads:

Tennessee, Kentucky and Alabama in the southeastern conference; Maryland and North Carolina in the southern; Ohio state, Illinois and Wisconsin in the big ten along with the non-title member, Michigan State; Penn and Cornell in the ivy league; Syracuse, Navy, Holy Cross and Villanova among the eastern independents; Oklahoma and Nebraska in the big seven; Baylor, Texas A. and M., and Texas in the southwest; Wyoming, Utah and Montana in the skyline eight and California and Washington in the coast conference.

Several title contenders and about 20 schools of "major" rank are among the 50 or so colleges starting out with new coaching regimens. Such familiar names as Bernie Bierman, Blair Cherry, Wallace Wade, Jeff Cravath, Denney Myers, Marchie Schwartz and Rube McCray are missing from the list of head coaches. In their places you find such comparative unknowns as Woody Hayes, Eddie Price, Marvin Bass, Jesse Hill and Ray George shooting for conference titles.

Since last season 3 colleges, including Georgetown, Duquesne, St. Mary's of California and Nevada have abandoned football for various reasons, mostly financial.

OH LEO SCORES OVER HILL GAIL

Leads Field Of 15 To Triumph In Washington Park Futurity

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Oh Leo, a two-year-old chestnut colt, owned by J. H. Dunn, retired furniture executive of suburban Oak Park, today led a field of 15 to a two and a half lengths victory in the $73,835 Washington Park Futurity.

Calumet farm's 8-5 favorite Hill Gail finished second and Happy Go Lucky nosed out Baybrook for third, decided by a photo.

Reverie Knoll farm's Smoke Screen and Eugene Constantin Jr.'s Heinrich were withdrawn from the event, knocking off $1,000 from the size of the purse.

Oh Leo, ridden by Jockey Paul Bailey, sprinted the six furlongs in 1:10 1-5. The winner, going to the post at odds of 7 to 1, returned $16.60, $9.00 and $4.60. Hill Gail paid $3.40 and $3.20, and Happy Go Lucky returned $9.00 to show.

Oh Leo, purchased for $2,600 as a yearling in the Keeneland sales a year ago, won $32,700. His earnings now total $105,972.

Oh Leo, never further back than second, snatched the lead from the pace setting Baybrook at the eighth pole and drew away with Hill Gail pounding after him.

Mrs. Emil Deenemark's Robert was fifth, Gushing Oil was sixth and Red Charger seventh.

Oh Leo has been one of the most heavily-raced juveniles of the season. He started his campaigning at New Orleans in the winter by winning five straight races, four of them by a nose.

The Washington Park Futurity was his fourth stakes win of the year. His previous victories were in the Duncan F. Kenner Stakes, a division of the Hyde Park and the Primer Stakes at Arlington Park.

MUELLER HAMMERS GIANTS PAST DODGERS

WEAK-HITTER DON BANGS 3 HOMERS TO SPARK 8-1 WIN

Polo Grounders Also Pull Triple Play To Add To Bums' Humiliation

New York, Sept. 1.—Right-fielder Don Mueller, never known for his long-ball hitting, clubbed three home runs today as the New York Giants, refusing to crack under the increasing pressure, blasted the Brooklyn Dodgers 8 to 1 and climbed to within six games of the league leaders.

Mueller's three homers knocked the five runs and gave the New Yorkers the first game of their double two-game series.

The Giants, whose late-season surge has confounded the experts, poured salt into Brooklyn's wounds by pulling off a triple play in the fifth inning. That, plus Mueller's surprising slugging made Sal Maglie's 18th victory an easy one.

In winning his fourth game in five starts against Brooklyn, the big right-hander scattered seven hits. Ralph Branca started for the Dodgers but lasted only four innings as the aroused New Yorkers overpowered him for a 5 to 1 lead.

That was the score when the Dodgers made a bid to rally in the fifth inning. Cal Abrams batted for Branca and reached first on Bobby Thomson's error. Carl Furberg beat out a slow roller to Thomson, and runners were at first and second.

Pee Wee Reese, who had three hits, lashed a line drive to Shortstop Alvin Dark, who flipped to Second Baseman Ed Stanky to double Abrams. Stanky then tagged Furberg who was running with the pitch, to complete the league's first triple-killing of the season.

REDS EDGE CUBS

Chicago Sept. 1.—Bob Usher's perfect throw to the plate in the ninth inning, cut off the tying run and enabled the Cincinnati Reds to preserve a 4 to 3 victory over the Chicago Cubs today.

President Okays House Extension

Washington, Sept. 1.—President Truman today extended for one year the time within which the government must get rid of its World War II temporary housing or get the tenants out and demolish the structures.

Mr. Truman said the shelter is needed now for military personnel and defense workers in the mobilization effort. His move was authorized in the defense housing act which he signed simultaneously with the executive order.

Under the old rules the temporary structures could be kept in use only in case local communities had applied by the end of 1950 to take them over.

If a community had not taken over, the law provided that notices of eviction to tenants must go out by the end of this year, they must be out by June 30 next year, and after that the buildings were to be demolished, sold for scrap or otherwise disposed of. No new tenants could be admitted after June 30 this year but in a stopgap move congress had extended that time to Aug. 15.

Mr. Truman's order moves all those dates up a year, into 1952 and 1953.

The president said more than 200,000 living units still under jurisdiction of the housing and home finance agency were affected by the order.

SAVITT RECORDS AMAZING VICTORY

But May Have To Forfeit In National Play Today Because Of Knee

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Dick Savitt scored one of the greatest victories of his meteoric tennis career today as, winning with pain from a sorely infected leg, he fought his way back from a 1-2 deficit in sets to defeat Budge Patty of Los Angeles, 6-3, 1-6, 4-6, 6-1, before 11,000 fans in the quarter-finals of the national championships.

The big elbow shouldn't have been playing tennis at all. He was limping from the start and the leg plainly was swollen just below the knee. But, rather than disappoint the week's biggest crowd, he went on, and the exhibition he gave of sheer grit and power tennis was a memorable one.

Immediately after the match he let out his lodgings to have the leg lanced. I he is able to walk tomorrow he will play Vic Seixas of Philadelphia in one of the day's semi-finals. Vic, surprise package of the tournament, remained in the running with a gruelling live-set win over Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, last year's defeated finalist, 1-6, 9-7, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Air Force Pilot Bails To Safety

St. George, Minn., Sept. 1.—An air force pilot caught in fog with his fuel supply low while flying from Omaha to Minneapolis, successfully bailed out near St. George last night.

Spending the night in the field, the pilot walked into the cross roads community at daybreak. First place he came to was the parish house of St. George's Catholic Church, where he got a blessing and breakfast.

The pilot's name: First Lt. M. R. St. George.

One Point Separates Gilbert, Boiko In Hot Cotton States Batting Race

By J. P. Friend

Blytheville, Ark., Sept. 1.—(Special)—Waxing as hot as the torrid weather, the keen scrap between Pine Bluff's Fred Boiko and Jim Gilbert, Natchez, for the 1951 Cotton States League batting title has narrowed down to a single decimal point with two games remaining on the calendar.

Friend News Service records for the period ending August 28 and released Saturday give Boiko the advantage, .347 to .346. In 138 games the Judge star has faced the pitcher 519 times with 180 base hits. Appearing in six less games, Gilbert has 477 times at bat with 165 safeties.

Included in Boiko's total are 24 doubles, 14 triples and six home runs, with 123 runs scored and 81 batted in. Gilbert's season card shows 37 doubles, eight three baggers and 15 runs. trippers. He has crossed the plate an even 100 times and send 97 mates over.

A four-way fight is in progress for third place. Pelham (Pe) Austin, Hot Springs is currently holding forth with .337. George Ruzina, Natchez, is breathing down his neck only two points away. Bill Jones, Natchez, sports .332 to .331 for Monroe's young clubber, Bobby Greene.

Eva Peron Won't Seek State Post

Buenos Aires, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Eva Peron told Argentina by radio tonight that she will not seek the vice-presidency as the running mate of President Juan Peron in the Nov. 11 elections.

The blond wife of President Juan Peron was given the party's nomination Aug. 22 but put off accepting in the face of opposition including a contention that she isn't old enough.

A serious split in the party has been reported since President and Mrs. Peron told a mass meeting of 250,000 workers more than a week ago they were ready to "bow to the will of the people." The party command at the same time named its Peron-Peron ticket.

NEW MARK

Toronto, Sept. 1.—The Rev. Bob Richards of St. Ignace A. C. cleared 14 feet, 7-8 inches today to crack the old Canadian National exhibition pole vault record of 14 feet, 1 inch.

NIEMAN, DUNLAP DUEL FOR LEAD

Only Three Points Separate Texas League's Batting Threats

Dallas, Sept. 1.—The fight for the Texas League batting championship is pushing right down to the wire.

Latest averages show Bob Nieman, Oklahoma City outfielder, leading with .324 but he's only three points ahead of Grant Dunlap, Shreveport outfielder.

There are 13 players hitting .300 or better but only seven of them are eligible for the batting crown although another will undoubtedly become eligible.

A player has to appear in 100 games, Eddie Kazak, Houston third baseman, who is hitting .309, had been in 96 games in the last averages. He has an excellent chance of going above .300.

Both Nieman and Dunlap had compiled their averages in 131 games, the former going to the plate 451 times and getting 146 hits and the latter getting 155 hits in 483 tries.

The only double leader in the league is John Temple of Tulsa. He tops in hits with 167 and in stolen bases with 28.

Bob Turley of San Antonio has the best pitching record—a 20-6 affair. Al Papai of Houston, however, has won the most games, taking 21 decisions while dropping eight.

Bastrop Invading Uralia Tomorrow

Uralia, Sept. 1.—(Special)—The Bastrop Barons will meet the LaSalle producers of Uralia here Monday night in the second game of the final playoffs in the North-east Louisiana League.

Twelve Minor League Farm Hands Recalled By Pirates

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—The Pittsburgh Pirates today recalled 12 players they had optioned to minor league clubs. Five will report to the conclusion of the season in their respective leagues.

The five are Pitcher Harry Fisher and Infielder John Merson from Indianapolis of the American Association; Pitchers Bill Koski and Paul L. palme from New Orleans of the Southern Association and Pitcher Pau Pettit from Charleston of the South Atlantic League.

Legion's Junior Series Gets Underway Tuesday

Detroit, Sept. 1.—Four teams as far distant as New York and California will fight it out in the American Legion's "Junior World Series" baseball championship in a four-day tournament starting Tuesday.

The four survivors from among some 16,000 start in a series of eliminations, are White Plains, N. Y., Jacksonville, Fla., Cincinnati, Ohio, and Los Angeles.

In sectional finals this week White Plains defeated Washington 6-5, Jacksonville shut out Sandston, Va., 3-0, Cincinnati ousted Wichita, Kas., 5-2, and Los Angeles knocked out Omaha 3-2.

More Power in 10 Miles or your money back!

Don't take our word for it. Prove to yourself that Rislone can work motor magic in the car you drive. (Especially recommended for break-in, too.)

Rislone is a super-lubricant, for full-time use. As soon as you put it in your motor oil it absorbs gum and sludge, frees sticking valves, and restores lost compression and power. We guarantee you can actually feel the difference.

Use Rislone all the time to enjoy quick starting in any weather, smooth power at all speeds. Start today.

Make this Money-back Test Today!

Put a quart of Rislone in your oil (2 quarts for larger cars). If you can't actually feel quieter, new power... new "get-up-and-go" in 10 miles—drive back to your dealer for a full refund. Nearly a million drivers a month made our money-back test last year—to their complete satisfaction!

COMBAT YET

Recently returned from Korea is Sgt. Nathaniel A. Clinton, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, who has been released from active duty and has returned to Monroe to rejoin his wife and family. He served on the south and central fronts with the First Division of the First Marines in the push past the 38th parallel.

Mrs. Clinton will be remembered as the former Miss Vera Jo Cannon. During World War II Sgt. Clinton participated in the battles for the Philippine liberation, invasion of Okinawa and the occupation of Japan, during which time he received three Bronze stars. He served aboard the Battleship USS Iowa. He has returned to his former employer, the Universal CIT Credit Corp., and will be located in Lafayette as a motor sales representative.

PELICAN STATE GIRLS RETURN

Ouachita Grammar To Register Early

Registration will be held at Ouachita Parish Grammar School on Wednesday, Sept. 5 starting at 9 a. m., announced Mack Avants, superintendent of parish schools.

Avants said that Ouachita Parish Grammar School would be the only school in the parish to register on the 5th. All others will register on September 10 and proceed with their regular school work the same day.

The faculty staff at the grammar school will be the same this year as it was the last, said the superintendent.

SOLDIER RETIRES

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—(AP)—An army spokesman said today that former Brig. Gen. L. D. Worsham, mentioned by Rep. Burdick (R-N.D.) in an investigation of an employment racket, has retired from the army.

The spokesman said Worsham now was vice president of the Rolph M. Parsons Company of Los Angeles.

Asks Police Aid In Locating Son

Mrs. Archie B. Evans, 216 South First street, has asked the aid of the Monroe police department in locating her son, Archie B. Evans and his wife.

The last report of Evans was June 27, 1951, when he returned to the states from overseas. He landed in New York City.

Anyone having any information as to the whereabouts of Archie B. Evans is asked to contact the Monroe police department.

Miss Mary Clay Goes To Hospital

Miss Mary Clay, librarian at Northeast Louisiana State College, is in the eye, ear, nose and throat hospital in New Orleans where she will undergo an ear operation.

It is expected that Miss Clay will be in the hospital about two weeks. Her address is 165 Elk Place, Ear, Eye, Nose and Throat Hospital, New Orleans, La., and she will be glad to hear from her friends.

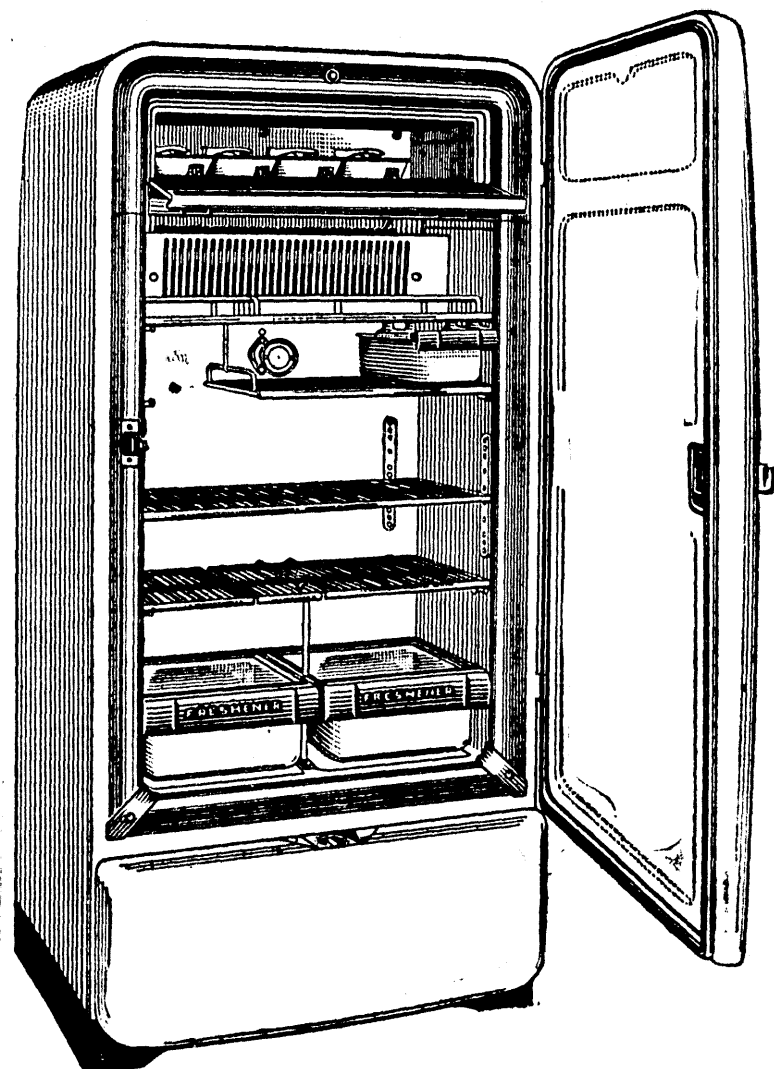

Noted Revivalist Well Received

Large crowds are attending the revival services at the First Methodist Church, West Monroe, and great interest is being shown. The large chorus choir, under the direction of Ben Underwood, thrill all who hear them with their singing. The congregational singing is very enthusiastic, also.

Dr. Jimmy Smith, who has conducted more than 600 revival campaigns, is doing a good job in bringing soul-stirring evangelistic messages at each service. A friendly atmosphere prevails the church at each service.

The public is invited to come and participate in these great days of blessings and opportunity. Services will continue through Sunday, September 9, with services twice daily—10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

ROUND-UP TIME!!

The rodeo, as American as the wild west, provides entertainment for millions of Americans each year. In rodeo, inhibitions, either by contestant or audience, are cast to the winds; the American way of life involving life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness comes to the fore. Every child wants to be a "cowboy," every child has jeans, boots and pistols of some kind in his lifetime. Practically every man, woman or child can enjoy this great American sport. (Story inside.)

PIE 'EM COWBOY!!

Amaryllis Hill Weds Dewey O'Neal Furr, Jr.

Couple Pledge Nuptial Vows At First Baptist Church In Winnsboro

Beneath the archway of greenery sprinkled with tiny white gladioli in the First Baptist Church, of Winnsboro, Miss. Amaryllis Hill, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Hill, D. O. Furr, Sr., of Shreveport, La., was the bride of Dewey O'Neal Furr, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Furr, Sr., of Shreveport, La., in a double-ring ceremony which was solemnized at four thirty o'clock in the afternoon Sunday, July 29 with the Rev. C. B. Hall officiating.

Serving as a background for the floral arch, the baptistry was covered with greenery and was flanked by four tall baskets of white gladioli and two seven-branch candelabra. Throughout the ceremony, Miss Elizabeth Landis played "Liebestraum" and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Landis played "Trauerlied" while the guests were being ushered to their places in the pews decorated with large white satin bows. "Ave Marie" was played while the candlelighters Mrs. Rufus Smith and Mrs. Billy Duplissy, wearing gowns of mint green lace with full skirts over taffeta and a circlet of daisies in their hair, lighted the candles. She also accompanied Mrs. James Merryman, who was attired in a pink net gown and wearing a carnation corsage who sang "At Dawning" and "Because."

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She was radiant, lovely in a gown of imported Chantilly lace over ivory satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and long sleeves which came to a point over the wrist. The full skirt flared into a long train. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a pearl bandeau, and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a white satin Bible, a gift of the groom's sister, on which the bride's flowers of white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley were artistically arranged.

Mrs. James Bowen of DeRidder, who was matron of honor, wore a mint green gown of lace and net with a circlet of daisies in her hair. Her bouquet was a cascade of daisies tied with a yellow ribbon. The three bridesmaids, Miss Emily Needham, Miss Clotilde McCasland and Miss Marjorie Furr, were attired in identical dresses of mint green lace and net. Each wore a circlet of daisies in her hair and they carried straw hat baskets, tied with dark green velvet and filled with daisies.

The little flower girl, Susie Mays, wore a full length net over taffeta dress and carried a basket of daisies.

Serving the groom as best man was Warren Tyson of Shreveport. Groomsmen were Bill Chandler, Lovelle Hayden and Lloyd Teekle. The bride's mother wore a rose crepe dress with blue accessories and a purple orchid corsage. The groom's mother's dress was a navy sheer with a pink lace yoke. Her accessories were white and her corsage was a purple orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where 150 guests were greeted at the door by Miss Patsy Masony who presided at the guest book. She wore a pink organdy dress with a corsage of white carnations.

Forming the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Furr, Mrs. H. I. Hill, the bride and groom, Miss Marjorie Furr, Miss Clotilde McCasland, Miss Emily Needham and Mrs. James Bowen.

The bridal theme was carried out in the decorations of greenery and white blossoms throughout the reception rooms. The guests were served from the dining room where the table, covered with a white cloth, held a three tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom, as the centerpiece. At the base of the cake were fern, white tulle and white althea. The opposite corners of the table were decorated with garlands of fern and white althea while the same flower arrangement was attached to the punch bowl. A bouquet of crepe myrtle and glossy magnolia leaves with crystal candelabra decorated the buffet.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. Billy Duplissy and Mrs. Rufus Smith who were assisted by Mrs. Yvonne Tyson and Margaret Louise Mays who invited the guests to the dining room. Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. James Mays who was in charge of the guest room, Mrs. Bruce Landis, III, Mrs. William Baker and Mrs. Everette Kincaid.

For the wedding trip to New York City and other points in the East, the bride wore a beige imported linen suit with black accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid from her bridal bouquet. After their return, Mr. and Mrs. Furr will be at home in their new residence at 352 Arthur street in Shreveport.

The bride is a graduate of Winnsboro High school and Louisiana State University where she was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega social sorority. The groom is a graduate of Byrd High school in Shreveport and of Louisiana State University.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were Mrs. E. L. Hood and Kathy and Bill Chandler of Port Arthur, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Smith of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. James Bowen of DeRidder; Bob Bains, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lesley and Paul, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Furr, and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Payne, all of Shreveport; Mable Lane and W. W. Knobb of Natchez, Miss.; Clotilde McCasland of Oak Grove; Emily Needham and Lloyd Teekle of Alexandria; Lovelle Hayden, Mrs. Blanche Mosely Lane, and Charles Lane, all of Monroe.

OAK GROVE

The directors of the Oak Grove Lions Club met for their monthly meeting at the home of Charlie Hope with nine members present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. W. O. James. Current business matters were taken up and a letter from the Pelican Girls State representative to Baton Rouge, La., thanking the Lions Club for sponsoring her was read. The host served punch, potato chips, olives and pickles to T. J. Nix, Dean McCormick, W. O. James, Gail K. Gay, L. H. Willis, Ed Herr, Dr. E. G. Couch, and George Newman.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Cayton of the Methodist Church of Oak Grove, left for California for a month's vacation.

Mrs. Dorothy Womack and daughter, Mary Eva are visiting in Little Rock, Ark. this week. Miss Margie Keller entertained with a card party in honor of Miss who is a guest of Miss Mattie J. Mitchner of Oak Grove and Miss Susie Rutledge of Peoria, Ill. Betsy Ross, of Jacksonville, Fla., who is a guest of Mrs. Joe Kelly. Guests present were Miss Dee Marcus, Miss Mammy Cheatham, Miss Mattie J. Mitchner, Miss Patsy Hudson, Miss Martha Dee Briggs, Miss Martha Ann Stacy, Miss Marlon Lucille Keller, and Mrs. W. H. Keller. High prize was won by Miss Cheatham and the hostess presented the honorees with a gift of a hand-painted silk fan. Home-made ice cream topped with peaches and angel food cake were served those present.

Miss Kay Johnson of Eudora, Ark. visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Choat of Baton Rouge, La. are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Dickinson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Warren and family of D'Lo, Miss. were visitors in the home of Miss Mae Lee this week.

Mrs. Dewey O'Neal Furr, Jr., was Miss Amaryllis Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Hill, before her marriage at the First Baptist church of Winnsboro, Sunday, July 29. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Furr, Sr., of Shreveport.

Children To Attend Rodeo

SUMMER 'READING ROUND-UP' AT PARISH LIBRARY CLASSES

The third annual summer reading club sponsored by the Ouachita Parish Public Library for the benefit of the children of Ouachita parish is drawing to a close. It has been in operation for three months and was called "The Reading Roundup." This theme was carried out in every detail of the program. In order to earn a certificate a child was required to read 15 books. Gold stars are added to the certificate for every five books read above the required 15.

As usual the people of Ouachita parish have cooperated to make the program a success. The North Louisiana Rodeo Association has permitted the library to give a free ticket to every child who earns a certificate for the Sunday afternoon performance on September 9 at 2:30. There will be a reserved section for white participants and another for colored participants in the club. At this time the prizes will be awarded by Miss Frances Flanders, the parish librarian. There are six prizes to be given at this time. The Children's Book Shop is giving three books. One book will be given to the child under ten who has read the most books during the summer. Another book will be given to the child over ten who has read the most books. A third book will be given to the bookmobile patron who has read the most books. The Ouachita Candy Co. is giving a book to the patron of the Carver branch who has read the largest number of books.

The Rancher donated two beautiful prizes which are to be given to the two children who write the best letters to the library telling what the summer reading club has meant to them. A genuine western shirt will be given to the child over 10 years old and a station cap pistol will be given to the child under ten years who writes the best letter. If you have not written a letter yet, get them to the library in Monroe at once.

Children must have tickets given by the library in order to attend the rodeo on Sunday afternoon September 9. If you have read your books from the West Monroe branch, turn your note-book or list of books read in there. If you read your books from the Carver branch, do the same thing. If you have been reading from the Monroe branch or bookmobile, turn your list in at the Monroe branch, 418 Jackson street, Monroe, La. Do not wait until the day of the rodeo and bring a note-book to the rodeo. This must be taken care of ahead of time. If you can not get to the library, mail your list in and ask us to mail you a ticket. Be sure to do this in time to get your ticket returned to you by mail.

LAKE PROVIDENCE

Miss Louise Reed was hostess for a motor trip to New York City with her father R. S. Reed and Grady Wyly as guests. Joined in the metropolis by Miss Annie Ethel Wyly sightseeing and attending baseball games were enjoyed.

In returning stops were made for tours in Washington, D. C., along the Blue Ridge and in the Shenandoah valley. Misses Reed and Wyly will visit with their parents in Lake Providence until leaving Sept. 10 for opening of the high school in Winnsboro, where they are faculty members.

Representative and Mrs. Vail M. Delony and daughters Betty and Vail leave next Tuesday for Baton Rouge, where Miss Betty Delony will enroll at L.S.U. for the freshman year.

Mrs. Arnold Rosenzweig and sons Bernard and Paul are happy in anticipation of a visit Sept. 3 from their daughter and sister Mrs. T. J. O'Flairty and Mr. O'Flairty and children Kathy and Thomas Arnold O'Flairty of New Orleans.

Mr. Bernard H. Rosenzweig motored on Monday to Ruston to take Mrs. Rosenzweig to visit until Friday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hanks, when he will go to make the trip home with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Neely have returned to their home in Mesa, Ariz., after an enjoyable visit in Lake Providence with Mrs. Neely's mother Mrs. W. M. Cobb. Miss Jennie Maggio spent her annual vacation visiting in Lake Charles, Port Arthur, Tex., and in Newellton with relatives.

Mrs. Frank Voelker, Jr., continues her stay in East Orange, N. J., to be with her mother, Mrs.

Margaret Wilson, who recently underwent surgery and who left the hospital on Wednesday, later Mrs. Wilson moves to Huntington, W. Va., to make her home near another daughter and Mrs. Voelker will then return home.

Lake Providence friends are delighted to have Mary Ann Rose home again, after a critical illness and lengthy stay in a Vicksburg hospital following a ruptured appendix operation from which she is slowly recovering.

The Seymour Myers are home again after Mrs. Myers two weeks stay in Biloxi with Mr. Myers, Betty in Jackson with relatives, and Seymour, Jr., and George, cousin Lida Lee McAfee of Greenville in Meridian with McAfee's grandparents.

Mrs. Pearl F. Brown and son Ernest J. Brown with Mrs. J. C. Bass as guest have returned from a western automobile trip through 15 states, into Canada and Mexico, a distance of over 7,000 miles, traveling the past four weeks. Mr. Brown returns Sept. 1 to Harvard University where he is professor of law.

Miss JoRene Myers, guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crews for the trip to Clarksdale, left Tuesday to resume her teaching at Heidelberg city school, as instructor of the third grade in the elementary department. Mr. and Mrs. Crews were enroute to Memphis, from which point Mr. Crews will take a plane for a hunting trip in Canada.

Mrs. Earl Mitchell on a motor trip to Terry, Miss., the past Sunday with her daughters Pansy and Peggy Mitchell, and son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pitts, had Miss Pat Myers to accompany them.

Sister Christina, principal of St. Patrick's School, Lake Providence, states the school registration will be Sept. 4 and 5, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, with classes to begin on Sept. 6 and be conducted for half a day through the 12th.

Mrs. A. S. Herzog will be teacher for the kindergarten. Sister Christina will teach the first and second grades, in addition to duties of principal. All are new faculty members except Sister Christina. Sister Genevieve will teach third and fourth grades; Sister Leone, fifth and sixth; Sister Joan, seventh, with classes in music and conduct 4H club meetings; Sister Loyola will be in charge of the school cafeteria.

Friends regret that Mrs. E. F. Stevens had the misfortune of falling, dislocating her shoulder and breaking her arm.

Miss Despina Kokinos And Fiance Honored At Supper

Mrs. John Tropea And Mrs. Leonard Battistone Are Hostesses At Buffet Supper

Mrs. John Tropea and Mrs. Leonard Battistone were hostesses last Sunday evening at a buffet supper honoring Miss Despina Kokinos and her fiancé, Leonard Victor Cascio, whose wedding will take place Monday.

Miss Kokinos was lovely in an original Harvey Berlin creation of black silk shantung with matching bolero. Receiving the guests were Mrs. Tropea, wearing a cream silk shantung dress, and Mrs. Battistone stunning in a black crepe with organdy overskirt.

The dining table, overlaid with a brown linen cloth, held as the centerpiece a large crystal tray with aqua and chocolate iced individual cakes and flanked by aqua candles. Small canapés were served along with assorted nuts and candies. Each guest was presented with a unique bridal favor.

Sharing this occasion with the bride couple were Mrs. Gus Kokinos, Mrs. J. B. Cascio, Mrs. Celia Pendola, Miss Katie Cascio, Miss Frances Cascio, Miss Kiki Gatzoulas, Miss Bessie Kocatis, Miss Loretha Ladart, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Fontana, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fontana, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Cascio, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anzalone, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fontana, Mrs. Sam Rizzo, Mrs. C. P. Fontana, Mr. Leonard Victor Cascio, Mr. Harry Kokinos, Mr. Veto Cascio, Mr. Chris Gatzoulas and Mr. Phil Saragusa.

TALLULAH

Mrs. Halsey Rivenbark and little daughter, Teresa, of Charlotte, N. C., are visiting Mrs. Rivenbark's mother, Mrs. P. O. Benjamin.

Miss Wanda Burks of Batesville, Ark., is visiting Miss Betty Burks. At a meeting of the board of stewards of the Methodist Church held Tuesday evening at the parsonage authorization was made to consult an architect with reference to tentative plans for the construction of an educational building for the church.

Mrs. M. A. Phillips entertained members of the Friday Club at her home which was bright with arrangements of summer flowers. Bridge games were enjoyed resulting in Mrs. Floyd Loper capturing the high score prize and Mrs. C. B. DeMoss second high. A delectable salad course was served after the games to Mrs. C. T. American Legion Auxiliary Members Install Officers

Lake Providence, La., Sept. 1. Pictured above are the group of officers governing Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37, American Legion Auxiliary, for the 26th year of the unit's history. To excel previous records, which have won many department trophies, this group of leaders have plans for an outstanding year, with accomplishments in fields yet not receiving state recognition.

The Auxiliary members, as wives, mothers, and sisters of Legionnaires, are enjoying their first permanent home. A home in which each member manifests deep pride and enjoyment, as it is picturesquely located on Bayou Tenas, surrounded by baseball park, tennis court and golf course, and the home, of brick veneer is spacious and comfortable and beautifully decorated. Compliments are expressed by all outside of Lake Providence who attend Legion or Auxiliary meetings, or who visit the home on social occasions.

The newly installed officers of Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37, with the cooperation of its 300 members are looking forward to a most successful year.

TWIN CITIES TURN WESTERN FOR RODEO

Riding in the Rodeo Parade which will be held at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday will be some of Monroe's young horse lovers. At the left (left to right): Dick Drew, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drew of West Monroe, "Boofie" Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Malone and Louis Milner, Jr., young son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Milner.

Parents And Children Spend Days Preparing For Parade

The Twin Cities are going western this week for the North Louisiana rodeo and local riders will be among the best-dressed, western-dressed horsemen in the country.

For the past two weeks, parents have been making all necessary preparations for the opening parade and grand entry each night. Blue jeans, cowboy boots, plaid shirts, scarfs and wide-brimmed hats will be the costume of the day throughout the next week, and there hasn't been a dull moment for parents in getting these together.

Cowboys and cowgirls have been equally as busy as their parents preparing for one of the most thrilling experiences of their lifetime. They've been putting in extra hours of riding, vigorously washing and brushing their mounts, in addition to polishing saddles, bridles and spurs.

By Wednesday morning, most of the young riders will be ready and waiting for parade time — 3:30 p.m. — when the rodeo spirit engulfs the Twin Cities with a brilliant brigade of well-mounted horses.

To Parade

Parade Marshall W. H. "Smitty" Smith will direct the formation of the parade and assist the rodeo riders in lining their horses up. Among the younger Monroe and West Monroe cowboys and cowgirls riding in the parade will be Dick Drew, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drew on his horse "Thunder."

Dianne Enrican, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Enrican, will be riding her new horse, "Whity," beside her in the parade will be Ginger Donald, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Sam Donald, on her horse "Pat."

Constance Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keller will be riding "Betty."

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seogin, Jr.'s daughter, Mary Lynn Seogin, will be mounted on "Charlie," a white Arabian horse.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Amman's two daughters, Dottie and Evelyn will ride their horse, "Duchess" and "Tex."

Linda Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Woods will be seen on her horse "Pepper." Their son Jimmy, will ride "Ginger."

Jackie Dupriest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dupriest, will ride his palomino horse "Miss Texas Bell."

Louis Milner, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Milner will ride in a pony cart pulled by his pony.

Scores of other riders in the Twin Cities are expected to ride in the parade which will be lead by the Ouachita High School band and followed by mounted cowboys, cowgirls, and convertibles filled with westerners.

LOVELY AUGUST BRIDE

Mrs. Holmes Melvin Mouser, the former Miss Kathryn Seegers, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Sidney A. Seegers, of Logansport, before her marriage August 22. The bridegroom is the son of Judge and Mrs. Vinson M. Mouser, of Columbia.

Kathryn Seegers Is Bride Of Holmes Melvin Mouser

Logansport Methodist Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

A wedding marked by beauty and simplicity was that of Miss Kathryn Seegers, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Sidney A. Seegers, and Holmes Melvin Mouser, son of Judge and Mrs. Vinson M. Mouser, of Columbia, which was solemnized Wednesday morning August 22, at ten o'clock, in the Methodist Church in Logansport.

Decorations in the traditional bridal green and white, featured fan shaped arrangements of plumosa fern and emerald leaves and floor baskets of frosty white asters and chrysanthemums. The altar before which the couple knelt held low arrangements of the same flowers and ferns and the family pews were marked with fluffy satin bows.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Sidney A. Seegers, father of the bride.

Miss Ethel Rose Rogers of Columbia, at the organ, presented a program of nuptial music which included "Chorus of Angels," "The Golden Wedding," "Angel's Serenade," "Trauerlied" and "The Star." She accompanied Mrs. F. H. Alston of Logansport who sang "I Love Thee" by Greig and "Yours is My Heart Alone" by Franz Lehár. The Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches were used, and Franz Listz's "Liebestraum" was softly played during the ceremony.

Miss Betty Joyce McLean of Alexandria was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Winifred and Dorothy Seegers, sisters of the bride, and Miss Crystelle Wallace of New Orleans.

The maid of honor wore a diaphanous gown of dawn grey nylon net over crushed rose net and tulle. It featured a strapless bodice topped with a period style fish collar of the two shades of net. With this she wore a matching halo hat and carried a round bouquet of duobonnet mums tied with grey satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of crushed rose net over rose grey net and rose tulle. They were identical in style to that of the maid of honor, as were their matching halo hats and round bouquets of mums.

Little Misses Nancy Garland and Christy Shaw, flower girls, wore dainty frocks of nylon marquisette over tulle in a shade of ivory matching the bride's gown. Made with very full skirts and fitted bodices, they featured tiny puffed sleeves of lace and sashes of the marquisette edged in dainty ruching. They wore matching ribbons in their hair and carried ivory baskets filled with rose petals, which they scattered in the path of the bride.

The bride given in marriage by her brother, Sidney A. Seegers, Jr. of Montevallo, Ala., was lovely in a period gown of antique ivory satin designed with a deep yoke and leg o'mutton sleeves of matching Chantilly lace. In the back, tiny self covered buttons fastened the fitted bodice, and the full skirt extended to form a fan shaped train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a bandeau of imported French wax orange blossoms and her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of ivory gladioli and sepharotis, tufted with ivory tulle and tied with ivory satin streamers. For the traditional "something old" she carried an heirloom handkerchief of handmade lace which was used by her grandmother and mother in their weddings.

Edward Mouser of Columbia served as best man, and others attending the bridegroom

June Mercer And Spurgeon Welch, Jr. United In Marriage

Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony Is Solemnized At Second Baptist Church In Bastrop

In a ceremony marked by dignity and beauty of a candle-illuminated sanctuary at the Second Baptist Church, Miss June Mercer became the bride of Spurgeon Welch, Jr., of Fairbanks.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mercer and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Welch, Sr., of Fairbanks.

The beautiful double-ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. J. E. Hinkle before an altar of traditional beauty, marked by lighted candles and floor baskets of white gladioli and tuberoses, backed with an arch effect of greenery. On the pulpit table the Bible was opened to the bride's favorite passage of scripture, the 23rd Psalm, and was marked by a white satin ribbon bow with cascading streamers tied in love-knots around double blossoms of tuberoses.

As the guests were seated by the ushers, Charles Whitaker and James King, Mrs. George Wallis played a program of nuptial selections. Candle lighters were Kenneth Mercer, brother of the bride and Glenda Ruth Nugent, cousin of the bride from Dry Prong.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Norma Geiger sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." After the bridal party entered, Mr. Marvin Merritt of Memphis, Tenn., sang "The Lord's Prayer."

tied with white satin ribbon.

Serving as flower girls were Monty Chamberlain and Mary Kay Marshall. Monty was sweetly dressed in pale lavender organdy over tulle and she carried a dainty net basket filled with rose petals. Mary Kay was charmingly dressed in pale yellow organdy over tulle and she carried a bouquet of blue and pink asters and tuberoses.

Serving the groom as best man was Mr. Charles Mercer, brother of the bride, from Memphis, Tenn.

At the first strain of the wedding march the ushers laid the white aisle carpet for the bride to descend to the altar where she joined the groom.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. The reception rooms were artfully decorated with white gladioli and fern. On the dining room table, covered with a linen cutwork cloth, tuberoses, lilies of the valley and lace fern surrounded the crystal punch service where Miss Grace Nugent, aunt of the bride of Shreveport, presided. Mrs. Robert Tyson, aunt of the bride, cut the two-tiered wedding cake which rested on a reflector and was decorated with lilies of the valley and topped with an arrangement of the same flowers and a miniature bride and groom. The tea girls in formal pastel gowns were Shirley Smith, Carlene Green, Rosemary Cornish and Norma Jean Bawcom.

Presiding at the bride's register was Miss Glyneth Mann. Upon leaving for a trip to Hot Springs, Ark. and other interesting points in the Ozarks, the bride wore a white suit with a small navy check. Her accessories were also white. She pinned the orchids from her bouquet on her suit. The couple will be at home in their house located on Franklin street upon their return. Out-of-town guests were: Miss Gloria Morris and Mr. Marvin Merritt of Memphis, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Naff and children Mr. and Mrs. John Welch, the groom's grandmother, Mrs. L. M. College Heights Garden Club Has August Meeting

Junior Garden Club Members Guests At Meeting In Home Of Mrs. Herbert Walker

The College Heights Garden Club met August 9 in the home of Mrs. Herbert Walker at 3908 Blanks with Mrs. C. O. Welch as co-hostess and the Junior Garden Club as guests. After the business of the day was finished, reports of the various standing committees were given. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. H. F. Shepherd, who, as leader of the Junior Garden Club, introduced the young girls. Miss Beverly Rushing gave a paper on the "History of the Junior Garden Club." She told of their first meeting in Sherrouse school when Mrs. Shepherd talked to them on soil preparation and fertilizer. Their well planned beds were laid out on the school grounds and then the seeds were planted. By the end of the school year the flowers were beginning to bloom. Miss Gwen John gave a paper on soil preparation, explaining that good soil should consist of one-third clay, one-third sand, and one-third humus. The importance of humus was stressed as it holds the moisture, aerates, improves the physical condition and makes plant food available. Humus does not replace fertilizer each needs the other for best results. One pound of commercial fertilizer should be used to each 64 square feet when preparing soil for planting. Miss Glenda Rogers told of the kinds of plants and the ways to propagate. Next she told of the depth to plant and the importance of a summer mulch. Miss Ann Walker talked on flower arrangement, discussing containers, mechanical aids, types of arrangements, and element of design.

Lovely arrangements made by these young girls were placed about the living room. With their interest and the able leadership of Mrs. Shepherd they have had a successful year.

Members present were Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap, Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. J. R. Kirby, Mrs. W. E. Knapp, Mrs. G. W. Levert, Mrs. W. M. Love, Mrs. E. C. Rowan, Mrs. H. F. Shepherd, Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. C. O. Welch, Mrs. W. E. Whetstone, Mrs. S. L. Williams, and Mrs. W. D. Womack.

Home And Garden News By Mildred G. Smith

With the thermometer at 102 degrees, you can still put out St. Augustine and Centipede grass. Saw Mary and Ed Ellison putting out sprigs last evening. They have had wonderful success sprigging St. Augustine from March to October. Let me add - Keep the springs wet. Best to get a fine spray or jog on the sprinkler, and let the water seep slowly into the ground. If your soil is bad, try putting about two tablespoonfuls of cotton seed meal under each sprig. Your grass will get a good start this year.

structions. In fact, they're so generous with their time they're helping the neighbors build a similar pit.

Now, if your taste runs to smaller pits, fire place style, call by and see Frances and James Bailey's. They used native red stone from around Farmerville. Their address is 808 Hilton. You'll receive a warm welcome here, too.

Ouida Collins, Mrs. P. Q. Humphries and a number of other housewives have been calling for a muscadine jelly recipe. Just follow your instructions for making grape jelly and you'll get a good product. (Don't forget to make the pectin test.) Ouida says she had never made good jelly until she used the alcohol pectin test and now she would put her Mayhaw jelly in the fair to compete with any in the parish.

I spent the most delightful afternoon, last Friday in Mrs. Joe Tull's home, 1813 Filholl. We worked out the color scheme for her small home. The rooms are small and the openings are many. So we decided on walls, woodwork and curtains all the same color to give a feeling of spaciousness, with ceilings very light to give them a lift. I'll tell you about this project later, when it's completed.

I'll see you next Sunday in this same column.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

First Church of Christ, Scientist
"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 2, 1951.
The Golden Text is: "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do." (John 5:19).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson — Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Jesus." (Luke 1:31).
The Lesson — Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker

Bible Comment

By William E. Givroy, D. D.

Discrepancies and inconsistencies are common among mortal men, but it is doubtful whether any discrepancy in the Bible is deeper than that between the racial and color — line prejudices and the plain teachings of the New Testament.
The Christian Church began when the Master gathered around him the first disciples, but the Day of Pentecost has been commonly regarded as marking the beginning of its world organization (Acts 2). It was a racially conglomerate mass of people (Acts 2:9-11), who heard Peter that day, and experienced the outpouring of the Spirit. There was no racial prejudice there.
Racial and religious prejudice soon met a testing time. Only a great vision convinced Peter that he should not call what God had cleansed "common and unclean" (Acts 10), and an angelic message led Philip to the baptizing and welcoming into the Christian fold of a black-skinned Ethiopian. (Acts 8:26-39).
But even these incidents with their plain teaching and implications did not prevent various prejudices among the early Christians, as many passages in Paul's Epistles clearly show.
Greatest of all in the rebuke of racial and religious prejudice is the example of the Master Himself in the famous incident of the meeting with the woman of Samaria recorded in the fourth chapter of John's Gospel. Read in the light of its time and environment that story is remarkable in its revelation of how Jesus in His earthly life lived above the prejudices, and even the customs, of the time and place.
The woman marvelled that Jesus, a Jew, should have asked a drink of her, for "the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans." But she might equally have marvelled, as did the disciples when they returned from the city, that Jesus should have conversed with her at all. For it was against the custom for a man to meet and converse with a woman in a public place. The woman, moreover, was of none too savory a character.
Yet Jesus treated her with courtesy and kindness. If he pressed somewhat closely on her past and present moral situation, it was with gentleness of rebuke rather than harshness; and it was to her that He not only declared His Messiahship, but also uttered the greatest word concerning the true nature of worship that has ever been spoken.
How is it that the example of the Master has not been more widely a model for all Christians in their attitude toward their fellowmen? If early Christians failed to rise always above prejudices, perhaps it is not amazing that later generations of Christians have failed. But the discrepancy between the preaching of the gospel of brotherly love, to love one another as God has loved us, and its actual practice is very great, as the most casual observer must realize.
It is a discrepancy which must be eliminated.

GOOD HOPE ALL OUT FOR YOUTH

Capable Young Leaders To Have Charge Of One Week Revival

With posters on display in the Twin Cities, Good Hope Baptist Church, of which Homer R. Spence is pastor, is announcing a revival which youth will lead. It is the first time this church has championed a youth-led revival and the pastor expects that it will have very substantial results.
There are to be services held at 7:45 p. m. each night, starting tonight and lasting through September 9. All who live near this church and others throughout the Twin Cities are extended a cordial invitation to attend.
Besides the able pastor, Reverend Spence, the leaders of this revival campaign will comprise the following:
Claude Fortenberry, evangelist; Gary Parrish, youth pastor; and Kenneth Adams, capable choir leader complete the team of active participating leaders.

Dr. E. K. Means To Preach Today

Dr. E. K. Means will preach at the First Methodist Church (this old pulpit) at 10:50 a. m. today. He will also preach in the same pulpit on Sunday September 16. The pastor of this church Rev. A. M. Serex, is on vacation and out of the city making a visit to his son who is a student in Annapolis.
The public is cordially invited to hear Doctor Means who is a great favorite with many in the Twin Cities.

Angelo Partis: Our Children

THE RIGHT SPIRIT
Celia had come to spend a few weeks with Aunt Lydia in the old homestead. Coming from a city apartment, the big sprawling house with all its rooms, the upstairs for sleeping, the parlors for visiting, the kitchen for everything, seemed like a new world to the child. She did not know now to do what to her elderly relatives were the simplest things imaginable. You'll soon get used to it they assured her.
One morning, Aunt Lydia said, "Do you know how to make your bed?"
"No, I never made a bed," said Celia in surprise. "Should I?"
"Every girl should know that. It is one of the first things a girl learns to do, I'll teach you how. We will start right now with your bed."
Then Aunt Lydia took off all the covers and shook them through the open window, turned the mattress and said, "Ever turn a mattress? No? Look. There are little handles here on the sides. Take hold of them, so, pull toward you, over it goes. Now do it again from this side just for practice, and so as to make sure it was really turned."

Celia was awkward but Aunt Lydia was patient and cheerful.

"Now the bed smoothly. Now the first sheet, this way. Watch me turn the corners. Now you try." Step by step the bed was made and by the time the spread was smoothed on and the last pillow placed, Celia was plainly weary.
"Why is it so much trouble Aunt Lydia? I mean, can't you just spread the things on? Those corners, and being so special about wrinkles and all. Do you have to?"
"No," said Aunt Lydia, "you don't have to. You see, it's like this. When you make a bed it is for somebody, usually somebody you care for, for a good deal. That person may be very tired, or even ill, and that wellmade bed, so smoothly made, so firm and level, will say, 'come, rest, sleep, and waken like a new person in the morning.' Bedmaking, like any other bit of homemaking, is an art. You will want to learn, of course, and I'll teach you anything I know."

"I didn't know. Mother always makes the beds in our house. Maybe I can learn but it looks hard."
"It will be until you do it as a matter of love. Love of somebody who is going to rest in that bed. You learn how this summer and you will be glad some day that you know how."

CORP. ROBERTS DESIGN WINNER

Submits Flag Sketch That Was Given First Place In Contest

Cpl. Young A. Roberts, Jr., Hq., A-3 draftsman, was declared the winner this week in the 7th bombardment wing "flag design" contest. His award: ten dollars cash and a three-day pass.
He submitted a design that combines the 7th bomb wing shield with the three Maltese crosses won in World War I, the motto: "Mors Ab Alto" (death from above), and the American eagle clasping bombs as it soars over the world.
Corporal Roberts received praise from the 7th wing commander, Col. John A. Roberts.
Chosen from the many contest entries, the winning design was one of three submitted by Corporal Roberts. His first efforts, combined the eagle and the B-36, but it was decided that SAC's global aim would be better represented by a world design.
Corporal Young's ability stems from duties as a draftsman with the 7th bombardment wing, where he is called upon to design many organizational charts, prepare map blow-ups and briefing charts for B-36 missions.

In the air force nine months, Corporal Roberts is undecided about making the service his career. A graduate of USAFI (Armed Forces Institute) in May, 1951, he wants to continue designing and drafting, possibly returning as engineering draftsman for the city engineer at Monroe, La., his home town.

IN ARMED SERVICE

Camp Polk, La. — Pfc. Virgil H. Simms of Route One, Wisner, La., a member of 3333 squadron Base at Camp Polk, was one of 49 graduates of Polk's joint army-air force food service school, one of the first of its kind in the country. The GI and airman graduates of the school's eight-week course were presented certificates at a formal graduation ceremony which included invocation by a post chaplain and addresses by the school's army and air corps commanders.
Semi-skilled cooks from both services are "mass produced" at the school, which features the start of a new class of 20 airman and 30 army students every two weeks. School are two officers from each of the army and air force, 20 air corps enlisted men and 14 from the army.

3rd Armored Division, Fort Knox, Pfc. William E. Blount, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Blount, has been graduated from the army's leaders' course conducted by the 3rd Armored division here.

During the first five weeks of the eight-week course in advanced methods of leadership and instruction, Private First Class Bount was required to demonstrate his ability to lead men in combat situations, give lectures and conduct periods of physical training.

He assisted training basic trainees of the 3rd armored division in the last three weeks — the practical application phase — of the course.

Private First Class Bount enlisted in the army in July, 1950.

Lamkin Church Is Planning To Build

The little community at Lamkin is making effort to erect a little church to be used by all denominations successively on Sundays. The start of construction has been made but more money and supplies are required.

Denominations that will use the building when completed are the Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists, Episcopalians and Christian groups. It is believed that many persons from the various denominations will desire to lend some financial aid.

When you're using a pressure cooker, after the desired pressure is reached, hold it steady by regulating the heat; avoid having the pressure fluctuate.

THE 'STRANGERS'

Robert Walker eavesdrops on Ruth Roman and Farley Granger in a scene from the suspense drama, "Strangers On A Train," which opens a three-day engagement at the Paramount Theatre today.

Bob Thomas In Movieland

Hollywood, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Saddest note of this week's news in Hollywood was the sudden death of Robert Walker at the age of 32.

Death at the end of long and distinguished life always leaves a note of sadness. But it is doubly sad when a person is struck down in the middle of what promises to be a notable career. It has happened before in Hollywood with the deaths of such figures as Rudolph Valentino, Jean Harlow, Ross Alexander, Rags Ragland.

Walker was considered by many, including such a supreme authority as Ethel Barrymore, as one of the best young actors in Hollywood. He had just finished what may well be his best role, "Son John." In it he played Helen Hayes's son, in a role which has been likened to Alger Hiss. Walker might possibly receive posthumous academy recognition because of it.

It was ironic that one of his most memorable roles was that of the easy-going, ineffectual Private Hargrove. Bob was anything but that. He was an intense fellow who took a serious view of life through his horn-rimmed glasses. (Incidentally, he was one of the first film players to wear them in public and helped to popularize them.)

Walker's story refutes the notion that Hollywood success spells happiness. He seemed happy enough when he and his wife, Jennifer Jones, were breaking into pictures. But after they broke up and she married David O. Selznick, Walker began hitting the headlines with his drunken conduct. He had a tragically brief marriage to John Ford's daughter, Barbara, and then sought psychiatric aid at a clinic in Kansas.

He returned, saying he was finally at peace with himself and no longer felt that he "didn't deserve happiness." But the end of his disturbed life came Tuesday night, said the doctors, to "an emotional disturbance."

Still brewing in Hollywood is the stew between Danny Kaye and Red Skelton. And when comedians feud—watch out!

The whole thing started when Kaye was playing his last performance at London's Palladium, supposed to introduce Skelton, who was playing there next. Skelton was in the audience, but Kay neglected to introduce him.

"I completely forgot," Kaye explained to friends. But Skelton was hurt, and more hurt was his manager, Bo Roos, and his biographer, Gene Fowler. They have fanned the feud. Kaye has told me he has "no comment" to make and says

It's a tempest in a teapot. . . . A notable note of movie thinking is shown in today's production. More than one-half—19 out of 36—of the pictures shooting are in color. Hollywood intends to tell the public: You may have to wait for color on TV, but you can find it in the movie theaters.

SHORT CUT

Washington —(AP)—An estimated 200,000 service men have not yet been able to take advantage of the new servicemen's free indemnity law—and probably won't for some months.

They're the men who already hold national service life insurance permanent policies (not term policies). Under the law they may waive that part of their premiums that represents "pure insurance" cost while on active duty. They must continue to pay the "reserve."

The reserve varies with nearly every monthly premium, and to allot a different amount each month from service pay would be hopelessly confusing.

The veterans administration probably will solve the problem this way, though the law doesn't provide for it: Allow the 200,000 permanent policy holders to allot a set amount each month, a small difference to be refunded at the end of three or five years, or sooner if the man is discharged.

The most favorite of all desserts with children is ice cream. If having a party serve it sundae style with a variety of toppings. Chocolate sauce, canned cling peace slices, canned fruit cocktail and slivered toasted almonds are all easy to fix and very popular.

In this scene from Irving Allen's spectacular frontier saga, "New Mexico," peace is breached between the white man and the Indian. Involved are, reading from left to right, Lloyd Corrigan, Walter Greaza, Ted de Corsia, a pair of troopers and Lew Ayres. The film opens soon at the Joy Theatre through United Artists release.

'New Mexico,' Thrilling Frontier Saga, To Show At Joy Theater Soon

Lew Ayres And Marilyn Maxwell Are Starred In New Color Film

Due at the Joy Theatre soon is the thrilling United Artists release, "New Mexico," which was produced by Irving Allen, with Irving Reis at the directorial helm. Co-starring in the film, which was photographed throughout in the sensational new Ansco color, are Lew Ayres and Marilyn Maxwell. The film relates the tense dramatic story of an ill-fated cavalry patrol which sets out hopefully on a desperate errand of mercy. It is the story of this patrol's dauntless leader, Captain Hunt, who never faltered in his duty and who willingly made the supreme sacrifice to achieve a strange victory. Ayres plays the role of Captain Hunt, whose sympathetic understanding of the Indian problem in the late 1860's, and his friendship for a formidable Indian chief called Acoma, do battle with his devotion to principles as a member of the U. S. cavalry. The ruthless exploitation of the Indian, as one sees it in "New Mexico," serves to make the picture a timely, compelling plea for a fair deal for the American Indian as a minority group. Ayres and Miss Maxwell, who plays a frontier actress, are supported by a distinguished cast headed by Jeff Corey, Andy Devine, Robert Hutton, Donald Buka, Raymond Burr, Lloyd Corrigan, Walter Greaza, Verna Felton and Ted de Corsia. The picture was photographed entirely in New Mexico against fabulous natural backdrops.

Junior High Will Open In Sterlington Sept. 10

The A. L. Smith School of Sterlington will open as a junior high school Monday, September 10, with the addition of two new faculty members according to a resolution of the Ouachita parish school board at its August meeting. This resolution rescinded a previous resolution rejecting the junior high school at the July meeting.

The junior high school in Sterlington is the culmination of plans initiated in 1945 by the A. L. Smith Parent-Teacher Association. The educational survey of Ouachita parish schools made by the state department of education in 1948 recommended the junior high school for Sterlington and a senior high school for West Monroe.

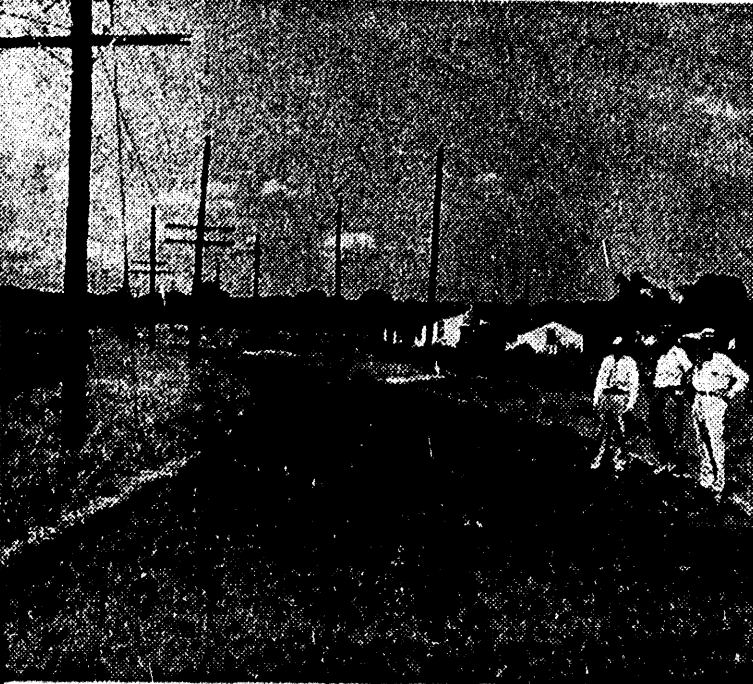

The junior high school plant and program of study is the result of several years joint planning by the faculty, Parent-Teacher Association, and a fathers patron group with a representative from each of the several villages that comprise the community of Sterlington. The plant was designed by Mr. Padgett, architect, and consists of a new elementary building with six (6) classrooms, administrative offices, teachers lounge, and cafeteria; the old building was completely renovated and was designed to house the junior high. It consists of three classrooms, a science room, an all-purpose room, library, gymnasium, showers and office for physical education director. The old lunch room building is being converted into an industrial arts and craft shop which will be an added feature of the educational program for the community. The plant will be modern in every respect, the elementary classrooms will have asphalt tile floors, radiant concealed heating, green glare resistant chalk boards. The primary classrooms have toilets of an approved sanitary type built in each room, which also has a drinking fountain and sink with running water. Steel lockers are provided for the pupils in the elementary school and individual steel lockers are in the halls for the junior high school. The classrooms are finished in light pastel colors according to the color scheme selected by each individual classroom teacher and approved by the architect. The corridors are finished throughout in a light green. The completion of the building is only one of many under way under the administration of Supt. Mack Avants, in modernizing the educational program of Ouachita parish schools.

The faculty of the A. L. Smith school completed a two-year evaluation study of their school and community last session with the cooperation of the state department of education and the Ouachita parish school board. This study was one of the pilot studies supervised by the state department of education under Mr. Tommy Landry. This faculty has long been known for its study and research work. It is the only faculty in Ouachita parish schools that has remained continuously in the child study program, sponsored by the child study institute of the University of Maryland under Dr. Daniel Prescott and associates. Mrs. Christie Williams, parish supervisor of schools, has given generously of her time in assisting with this study, practically all of which has been done on the teachers own time. Practically the entire faculty was in school during the summer either pursuing regular work or child study workshop study. The principal and the second grade teacher were privileged to attend the child study institute at the University of Maryland and work under Doctor Prescott personally.

The parents in the Sterlington area have shown a real interest in the school and deserve a great deal of credit for the present educational program. They have indicated an intense interest in study groups themselves, and every effort will be made by the faculty to assist the parents in their study program this session. Dr. B. E. Spencer, local board member, has worked tirelessly for the advancement of the educational program. Registration will be open to all in the Sterlington school area in grades one through nine.

DOCTORS TO MAIL 'PRESCRIPTIONS'

Recommendations Are Made To Patients To 'Take' Blue Shield Plan

Doctors throughout the state of Louisiana today began mailing to their patients probably the greatest number of printed "prescriptions" ever to be dispensed in Louisiana, announced Dr. E. L. Zander, president of Louisiana State Medical Society. "We are mailing more than 350,000 of these 'prescriptions' announcing the Blue Shield individual enrollment campaign during the month of September," said Doctor Zander.

The doctors will include the "prescriptions" with their statements being mailed on the first of September. A great majority of the people receiving statements from physicians within the near future will find the "prescription" enclosed with their doctor's bill.

The "prescriptions" are a recommendation by the doctors to their patients to "take" the Blue Shield plan. Louisiana Physicians Service, Blue Shield, is the prepaid health care plan offered by the doctors through the Louisiana State Medical Society. The plan offers a system of prepaying the cost of hospital, surgical, medical and obstetrical bills.

The "prescription" reads: "You need pre-paid health care protection. I prescribe, Blue Shield, the doctors' plan for hospital, surgical, medical and obstetrical care. Now for a limited time accepting individual applications. 'Take it now.' Your doctor, M. D."

"These printed prescriptions might direct some attention to what could possibly happen under a compulsory system of government medicine. Under such a system many ailments would be administered by printed prescriptions probably released by a clerk in a socialized doctor's office. We still can recommend voluntary health protection which gives the patient freedom of choice of doctor and hospital," said Doctor Zander.

Doctor Zander added, "There is a dire need for such a program to enroll individuals throughout the state of Louisiana because most prepaid health care plans are now limited solely to groups. It is the belief of many doctors that there are many, many thousands of people who will avail themselves of such an opportunity to enroll in Blue Shield. Inasmuch as the principles of insurance underwriting must be adhered to, it is necessary to naturally limit the time in which individuals may enroll; therefore, such a program will probably be made available to individuals only once each year. Everyone desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity should do so now because the individual enrollment program is for a limited time."

Providence Men Seeking Office

Lake Providence, La., Sept. 1.—(Special)—East Carroll candidates already announced for election on Jan. 15, 1952, are three for sheriff: Incumbent William McFarland Long, veteran of World War I has served since March 1, 1937, when special election was called to elect successor to the late John C. Bass, with reelections and taking of oaths of office on June 6, 1940, May 25, 1944 and in 1948.

Prior to election as sheriff Mr. Long had served as clerk of court, being sworn in on July 1, 1932 and June 1, 1936. Before filling the office of clerk of court Mr. Long served as deputy sheriff of East Carroll, taking office first on July 6, 1922, again on July 2, 1924, and last on July 11, 1928. William Doyle Hill, candidate for sheriff, has served the town of Lake Providence for many years as both day and night marshal, and presently is operating a taxi business. John W. "Red" Gilbert, the third candidate to announce for sheriff was same warder for the parish for seven years. Other candidates are expected to announce for the office of sheriff, but Dr. T. G. Biggs, executive committee states that member of the parish Democratic executive committee states that filing dates have not yet been set by the state central committee and expects the dates for filing to be late September or early October.

Candidate announced for East Carroll parish assessor is William Yancey Bell, incumbent. Mr. Bell was first elected to the office in January 1944 and took oath of office January 1, 1945, with reelection in January 1948. Mr. Bell is a veteran of World War I, and prior to assuming duties as assessor he was office deputy in the sheriff's office from 1937 until taking oath of office as assessor.

Miss Edna Bishop, present deputy clerk of court, has announced for that office with record of seven years of service in that office.

MALAYA RUBBER ESTATES
Penang —P. Warren S. Lockwood, chief of the natural rubber bureau in Washington, thinks rubber planters in Malaya are doing a good job.

Lockwood, touring Malaya to urge the production of more rubber powder for roadbuilding said here "If every American would take the trouble as myself to visit Malaya and see for himself the magnificent job being done in rubber estates under severest odds, I am sure the American government would realize the vital importance of increased use of natural rubber."

Lockwood is going to Indonesia after completing a 12-day tour in Malaya.

Handwriting Analysts Can Delve Into Human Character

By Bert Hatten
This is a story about grapho analysis.

What's that? Well, frankly, we didn't know either until just recently when we made the acquaintance of Mrs. E. L. Covin who is a grapho analyst. She's a Monroe woman living on Filhiol avenue.

A grapho analyst is a person who can take a specimen of your handwriting and determine what kind of personality you represent. And the results can be embarrassing, unless you're willing to face the facts of your life. I know from where I speak. I was analyzed by Mrs. Covin last week and yesterday she handed me a written report which brought out a lot about me that I think I knew but hadn't realized.

The report carried such revelations as "You are very sensitive to . . . criticism of your conduct . . ." and "at the time you wrote this (the specimen she analyzed) you were very touchy and irritable. Learn to take criticism and use it for self improvement," the report advised.

However, the report didn't say I was just a nervous egotist with no desirable traits at all. I also have "a keen mind" and am "a quick thinker—with a thirst for knowledge," the report said.

Because I am egotistical I shall report further on some of my finer qualities. "You have the character traits of pride, integrity, fluency of speech, culture and poise," the report lauded.

Photographer Leon Noland, Jr., met Mrs. Covin for the first time when he took her picture. Being the curious fellow that he is, Leon asked Mrs. Covin to make an impromptu analysis of his writing. She did.

"Humm,mm," she started her report on Leon, "You're bossy." The report was interrupted and ended by Leon's denial. However, Mrs. Noland later marveled at Mrs. Covin's accuracy.

You may ask how Mrs. Covin can determine a person's characteristics by merely studying his handwriting. That, I don't know, except that it requires close observation of the letter formations. Mrs. Covin says the "T" is her chief concern.

Regardless of how they do it, handwriting experts are accepted and employed by some of the biggest investigative agencies and business concerns in the nation. Many employers, banks, mail order houses, the FBI and others rely on handwriting experts. These people are not fortune tellers. Their work is a science that requires extensive training to perfect.

Mrs. Covin, a youthful looking grandmother, said she became interested in grapho analysis after reading of its functions and intrigue in a national magazine a few years ago. The particular story she read told how one of the nation's largest mail order houses employed a handwriting expert to decide which of its new customers were sound risks.

Realizing that such an art could not be mastered through a miracle, Mrs. Covin said she investigated and located a school that specialized in the instruction of grapho analytics. She enrolled and is now a graduate of the International Grapho Analysts' Society, of Missouri.

Mrs. Covin says the talents of children and even adults can be determined by their handwriting. She said she could tell in what field a child is most likely to succeed or whether an adult is following the occupation for which he is best suited.

Handwriting experts are often used in vocational guidance, personnel management, in juvenile delinquency and criminal cases. Many big department stores and factories have these analysts on their employment staffs, Mrs. Covin said. Understandably, these experts are not usually revealed to the people whose handwriting is brought under their scrutiny. Mrs. Covin believes grapho analysis is a growing field.

She has never commercialized on her knowledge, Mrs. Covin said, but she hopes to teach others someday. She is a housewife now. She said her practice since graduation had been limited to her friends and some entertainment before civic groups, in many of which she is an active member.

She recounted several instances in which she had analyzed persons with peculiar or humorous reaction on the part of her subjects. Mrs. Covin's reports might arouse fury in some people who may feel that their faults have been "revealed." The reactions of some are comical.

One case she recalled was that of an eight-year-old boy. Mrs. Covin said he approached her and said "Demp, (her nickname) analyze my handwriting."

While studying the lad's pencilled specimen, she frowned and looked at the youngster. "My young friend, you're hiding something. What is it?" she quizzed. His reply: Daddy's switch.

Oklahoma Wells Given New Life With A Transfusion

By Keith K. King
Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 1.—North-eastern Oklahoma's aged and feeble oil wells are getting new life from a water transfusion.

Mounting use of waterflooding, elsewhere as well as in Oklahoma, promises to help slake the world's growing thirst for oil. It will be an important factor if the petroleum administration for defense estimate that the United States can add 1,200,000 barrels to its present 6,800,000 - barrel daily output by 1955 is fulfilled.

It's generally acknowledged the petroleum industry's most important technical discovery of recent years is the fact that oil doesn't produce itself.

It must be pushed from the earth by either natural gas or water. And reliance on these natural energies — a practice common from the time of Colonel Drake's first Pennsylvania oil strike in 1859 until fairly late years — recovers only between 20 and 25 per cent of the oil.

In recent years, however, the industry has supplemented natural production by injection of gas or water into the oil formation, an operation known as "pressure maintenance."

Waterflooding, used either at the time of a field's discovery or when it reaches the "stripper" stage, brings up between 50 and 75 per cent of the oil.

A "stripper" well is one whose operation at a profit is questionable. The term itself was borrowed from the farmer who, upon finishing his milking, "strips" the cow's udder to get the last drop possible.

About two years ago the interstate oil compact commission, aided by the Independent Petroleum Association of America and the National Stripper Well Association, completed a survey showing the country in 1949 had something like 313,970 stripper wells.

This research also estimated there are 7,154,000,000 barrels of recoverable oil reserves underlying the nation's stripper fields, of which about 3,530,000,000 will be recovered by primary production methods. Some 4,010,000,000 will remain to be brought out by secondary recovery, including waterflooding.

Of the latter figure, it was estimated 935,335,000 barrels are in Oklahoma, highest secondary recovery potential of the nation's 37 producing states.

Stripper wells abound in north-

MENTAL REJECTIONS

Washington —P— The army says one reason mental rejections of draftees hit the highest rate in July since the Korean outbreak is that officers who interview draftees are going to school.

With interviewers away learning how to do a better job, the army suspended "administrative inductions" — the draft of men who fail the pre-induction mental exam but appear bright enough for service anyway. This brought rejections to 21.8 per cent.

The army says administrative inductions won't resume until all interviewers are back on the job, around Jan. 1. At that time, too, more than 250,000 men who have flunked the pre-induction mental test will be re-examined.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT

Alan Ladd gets plenty of opportunity to use his gun and fists as a postal detective as he closes in on his man in this exciting scene from "Appointment with Danger," the thrilling story of a million dollar mail robbery, which opens a four-day engagement at the Paramount Theatre Wednesday.

Ladd Blasts Million Dollar Robbery As Fighting U.S. Agent In New Film

'Appointment With Danger'
Opening At Paramount
Next Wednesday

Alan Ladd's latest adventure drama is "Appointment With Danger," the Paramount thriller which opens on Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre for four days. Based on the daring exploits of the postal inspection service, the film has been described by advance critics as an exciting and brilliantly mounted production which spins out a breath-taking story of a million dollar mail robbery.

Phyllis Calvert co-stars with Ladd, and Paul Stewart, Jan Sterling and Jack Webb head a large and talented roster of feature players. In addition to the histrionic contributions of a top flight cast, the picture is enhanced by a polished and fast-paced script that bristles with taut dialogue and dramatic situations, and the post office department has generously assisted in the production.

Postal inspectors are a small but hard-hitting band of agents who are responsible for the safety of the United States mail. Swindling, forgery, robbery and murder are all in the day's work for these tough operatives, and from the actual accounts of their heroic adventures, comes a film which is reportedly shot through with action, suspense, violence and realism of the most memorable sort.

Ladd, who knows a thing or two about portraying trouble-shooters, is cast as a postal inspector who investigates the death of a fellow agent and then stumbles into a daring scheme for a million dollar mail robbery. Posting as a corrupt inspector, he wins the confidence of the gang, and though the thugs' suspicions are aroused, his fast talking saves him. A nun, who is the sole witness to the agent's murder, is kidnapped by the gang just before they pull the spectacular hold-up, and Ladd is faced with the dual problem of smashing the gang and saving the sister from death.

How he handles this situation makes for some of the most rousing action ever seen on the screen, and the sizzling action includes gun fights, savage fist fights and wild auto chases, as well as some amorous interludes of a very torrid sort. In short, here is a role that is tailor made for Ladd, and judging from the enthusiastic advance acclaim, he makes the most of it.

"Appointment With Danger" was directed by Lewis Allen and produced by Robert Fellows. Location filming was done in Indiana and Illinois on the authentic sites of the story.

List Applicants Monday,
September 10

According to S. W. Jackson, director, the electric department of the Ouachita Valley Vocational School, which is located on Slack street, West Monroe, will hold registration for their electrical night classes, Monday, Sept. 10, 1951 at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting will be under the supervision of Mr. W. C. Willhite Jr., electrical instructor who will determine at that time the desires of the group concerning the exact nature of the course as well as the future meeting nights.

All persons who are 18 years of age and who are following an electrical pursuit regardless of whether they are veterans or not are eligible for this training.

Mr. Jackson further states that since the Ouachita Valley Vocational School is a public institution operated by the state of Louisiana that all instruction is free to the public.

Madrid is Spain's largest city and its transportation center.

Orkin's Free Inspections will uncover your winter hideouts.

New York. — War is for people who don't know any better—or who can't help themselves. It interrupts or destroys the chief pleasure of this world—which is to live happily.

War is the last resort of a nation that tells another nation it must have its way, by force if necessary. The fact it also says its goal is peace is confusing. By peace it means, "I want my own way and my own system."

Wars, birthed by ambition or principle, have tended to end in the same way. They renew chaos instead of achieving order.

All leaders, dictatorial or democratic, throughout history have sent millions of men to bloody death on strange battlefields to win a victory by force of arms that can only be temporary.

How can war achieve permanency when it is most often merely hate against the foreigner?

Rome finally killed Carthage, and then Rome sickened and died. Why? She couldn't police her own great system.

The Romans spread a colossal net of awe for order that still afflicts us, their conquerors, after the barbarian outbreaks of these many centuries. The passion for a pattern that the Romans set still endures.

And one who has a hopeful eye about the march of history cannot feel that the passage of 20 centuries has been less than a step toward a unified world. Hope is better than a timetable.

Napoleon and Hitler tried to achieve world unity by the direct assault of power. So had Alexander the Great. The British, a small people with a great mind, worked by the twin channels of prestige and strategic strength toward the same goal.

The muscle of America rules the world today except for the untested might of Russia. Not only the muscle of America but its dreams. Dreams can win, too.

What happens to the world in our time depends on whether America and Russia bump heads and heads in battle.

Will they?

They sometime and somehow may probably have to do so, but I am an optimist enough to believe it won't be tomorrow.

As the world has shrunk, great nations have tended to fight each other just as small nations in Europe once could afford the luxury of enmity expressed in combat.

But this irresponsibility is dying.

Sometime some nation in the long story of mankind must pledge its money and men and minerals underground to something finer than either future profit or boyish restlessness—the goal of eternal peace.

Men and nations often reach for power because they are neurotic. To control something else becomes their obsession because they cannot control themselves.

The third world war—if it does come, and it will be an unnecessary war if it does happen—probably will express the internal frustration of some ruling clique that will start a war rather than lose the grab it has.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

by GEORGE WUNDER

DOES THIS BLADE NOT STIR YOUR WITS, TERRY LEE? THE DRAGON LADY SUGGESTS THAT YOU KISS HER.

BUT, BLAST IT, MADAM D.L.! THEY'RE DOWNSTAIRS RIGHT NOW!...UNLESS I BREAK IT UP, THE GUERRILLA COURIER WILL TURN OVER AN IMPORTANT PAPER TO CHOPSTICK JOE.

I AM NOT FLATTERED THAT TERRY LEE FINDS THE DEVIOUS DEALINGS OF THAT FAT, MONEY-GRUBBING PARASITE MORE INTRIGUING THAN THE DRAGON LADY'S LIPS.

MOST DISAPPOINTING, TOO, CONSIDERING THAT WHEN WE MET BEFORE, YOU SEEMED QUITE AWARE OF MY CHARMS. SO, WHEN YOU CAME TO MY QUARTERS TONIGHT...!

I HEARD YOUR RECORD PLAYER. DIDN'T KNOW YOU WERE HERE.

I STILL DON'T KNOW HOW COME THIS PLUSH MARE'S-NEST IN A GUERRILLA HIDEOUT—OR WHERE YOU FIT INTO THE PICTURE.

IS IT NOT ENOUGH THAT THE DECOR IS ROMANTIC—AND THAT I SEE YOU AS A MAN INSTEAD OF A BOY?

O.K., BABY, YOU ASKED FOR IT.

GIVE TO PAPA!

SORRY I HAD TO DO THAT, D.L., BUT I'VE GOT TO GET TO THAT GUERRILLA COURIER BEFORE HE STOPS STALLING AND HANDS OVER THE DOCUMENT HE'S CARRYING TO CHOPS.

IN THAT CASE, MY BLOND FRIEND, IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO HURRY. HE DOES NOT HAVE THE "LIN REPORT" ...I HAVE IT!

SCENE: THE BASEMENT OF A RIVER COTTAGE.

YOU'RE THE ONLY BLACK SHEEP IN THE FAMILY! I'VE BEEN A TEACHER FOR 10 YEARS. FATHER WAS A LEADER IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

OUR BROTHER DIED A HERO IN THE WORLD WAR—BUT YOU—A CRIMINAL BLACK SHEEP! A DISGRACE! GET DOWN IN THAT HOLE! YOU MUST DIE!

BRAINERD! I'M YOUR SISTER.

NO. BRAINERD! THEN YOU WILL BE A MURDERER! THAT'S WORSE THAN I! YOU WILL BE THE BIGGER CRIMINAL!

RIGHT! IF I KILL YOU—I'LL HAVE BLOOD ON MY HANDS! IF YOU LIVE, I'LL BE DISGRACED!

WE MUST BOTH DIE TOGETHER! BOTH OF US! GET UP!

MEANWHILE, DICK TRACY REVEALS TO CHIEF PATTON HOW THE KING AND HIS CRIME SYNDICATE HAVE BEEN SMASHED.

COMPLETE. HID IN A METAL BOX IN THE BOTTOM OF A CATTLE WATER TANK.

TRACY, HERE'S SAM!

THE CRASH SMASHED MY WRIST RADIO—CREW LOU HAS ESCAPED! TAKEN FROM OUR SQUAD CAR!

A RENTED AMBULANCE DELIBERATELY CRASHED US! THE DRIVER—I CHECKED UP—CREW LOU'S BROTHER!

HE'S BEEN A PROFESSOR AT THE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE SINCE 1941.

YES—WE WILL DIE TOGETHER! THAT'S THE PRICE I MUST PAY FOR YOUR SINS.

TARZAN

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

LATER, UNDER THE NIGHT'S PROTECTIVE
SHADOWS, TARZAN CREPT INSIDE THE PALACE,
BUT A SENTRY GUARDED THE MAIN CORRIDOR.

CATLIKE, THE APE-MAN
POUNCED ON THE GUARD.
"SPARE ME!" PLEADED
THE NATIVE. "I CAN TELL
YOU WHERE THE WOMAN IS!"-"VERY WELL," SAID
TARZAN. "BUT ANY TRICKS, AND YOU DIE!"
THE NATIVE POINTED A
TREMBLING FINGER--

--"THROUGH THAT PORTAL!" SENSING
DANGER, TARZAN HESI-
TATED, BUT WITH A
QUICK THRUST OF HIS STAFF, THE DECEITFUL
SENTRY TOPPLED HIM
PAST THE CURTAIN--

-- WHERE HE IMMEDIATELY
PLUNGED DOWN-
WARD, VICTIM OF A CRUDE
BUT EFFICIENT
TRAP!

THEN, FROM A CORNER OF THE DUNGEON, HE HEARD A WARNING GROWL. THE APE-MAN
SQUINTED -- THERE, CROUCHED AND SNARL-ING LIKE A BEAST, WAS A WHITE MAN!

OH, I GOT MY WORK ALL DONE FOR NOW IN THE KITCHEN—I WAS JUST CLEANING THE HALL CLOSETS—

I STILL SAY THAT BRAT IS A NOSEY LITTLE MONSTER—

POPPYCOCK—SHE'S JUST STUPID ENOUGH TO LIKE TO WORK—SHE AMUSES ME—

I GUESS HE DIDN'T SUSPECT ANYTHING—HOW COULD HE? I'M NOT EVEN TELLIN' SHIV AN' LARD HEAD WHAT I FOUND OUT—

WALLS IN THIS OLD PLACE SIX OR EIGHT FEET THICK—WHY? NOT JUST TH'OLD UP TH' HOUSE—AN' TH' GUY WHO BUILT THIS JOINT—

CRAZY CHAP NAMED CHAUNCEY CHEEZE—ONLY BEIN' RICH HE WASN'T CRAZY—JUST ECCENTRIC—AND WHEN HE DIED—SUDDEN—HE WILLED THIS WHOLE LAYOUT TO "DOCTOR" LAHTE—

ALL TH' CLOSETS AN' CUBBY HOLES ARE FULL O' OLD JUNK—ONLY IN THIS CLOSET THERE'S THIS OLD CUPBOARD—

JUST SOME OLD COATS HANGIN' IN IT—AN' WHEN I PRESS JUST RIGHT ON THAT SHELF CLEAT—

HA! PRESTO!

HMM—NOW TO USE THIS FLASH LIGHT I FOUND IN A DRAWER IN TH' PANTRY—FIRST, SHUT TH' PANEL AFTER ME—

WHADDYUH KNOW—TWO-FOOT PASSAGE—RUNS BACK—THAT'S TH' PART O' TH' HOUSE BEYOND THAT IRON DOOR—

STEPS LEADIN' DOWN—AND OTHERS GOIN' UP—GUESS I'LL GO DOWN FIRST—

OH-OH—BET THERE'S A PEEP HOLE UNDER THAT FLAP—MAYBE I CAN SEE INTO TH' CELLAR—OFF WITH MY LIGHT AN' HAVE A LOOK—

UNCLE REMUS
AND HIS TALKS OF BRER RABBIT
Adapted from the stories by JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

BRER NOW AN' THEN BRER FOX AN' BRER BAR GIT TO THINKIN' HOW NICE TH' WORLD WOULD BE WITHOUT BRER RABBIT TO BUST UP THEIR SKEEMS.

...THEN WE DIGS A DEEP HOLE AN' FILLS IT WITH QUICKSAND AN'...

NAW-W-W...THAT AIN'T GONNA WURK!

OUCH! QUIT HITIN' ME WITH THAT SWITCH!

WHO... ME?

WELL, US MAKES A SNARE AN'...

SNARES AIN'T NO GOOD! YOU IS SNARE CRAZY!

HEY! DON'T YOU HIT ME WITH NO SWITCH?

WHO'S HITIN' WHO WITH WHUT?

WHY DON'T I JEST TAKE A CLUB AN' KNOCK HIS HEAD CLEAN OFF?

THAT'S TH' MOST STUPID THING YOU IS SED TERDAY!

OUCH! QUIT IT!

WHUT IS YOU YAMMERIN' 'BOUT?

I TOLD YOU TO QUIT HITIN' ME WITH THAT SWITCH!

WELL...THAT'S THAT!... AN' MAY TH' WUSS CRITTER WIN!

BLAME ALWAYS FEELS AT HOME ENNYWHAR YOU PUT IT.

The PHANTOM
By LEE FALK and WILSON MCCOY

IF I COULD HAVE HELD HIM-- WHEN I HAD HIM! --NO SECOND CHANCE-- IN THE JUNGLE--

AS THE PHANTOM TRIES TO HOLD OFF THE GREAT TIGER--

THE BATTLE CAN END ONLY ONE WAY NOW, THE WATCHERS KNOW AS THEY WAIT TENSELY--AND IT'LL COME AT ANY MOMENT--

BUT THAT MOMENT NEVER COMES AS HERO, LOOKING FOR HIS MASTER, ENTERS THE CLEARING. LIKE ALL HORSES, HE FEARS TIGERS-- BUT HOLDS HIS GROUND--

AND IF THERE'S ANYTHING A TIGER LOVES, IT'S HORSE MEAT! THE GREEDY KILLER IS OFF LIKE A FLASH FOR HERO--

BUT THE PHANTOM MOVES EVEN FASTER! HIS IRON MUSCLES HOLD FAST! THIS TIME --NO SLIP-UP!

THE PHANTOM HAS THE STRENGTH OF TEN TIGERS--

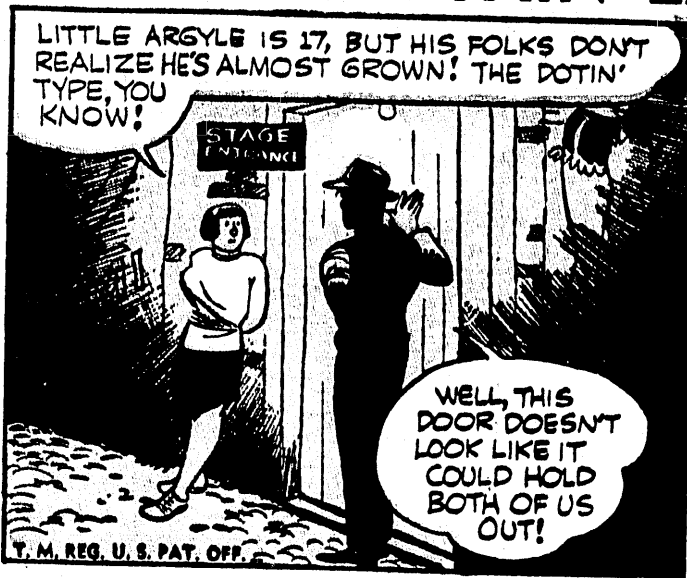

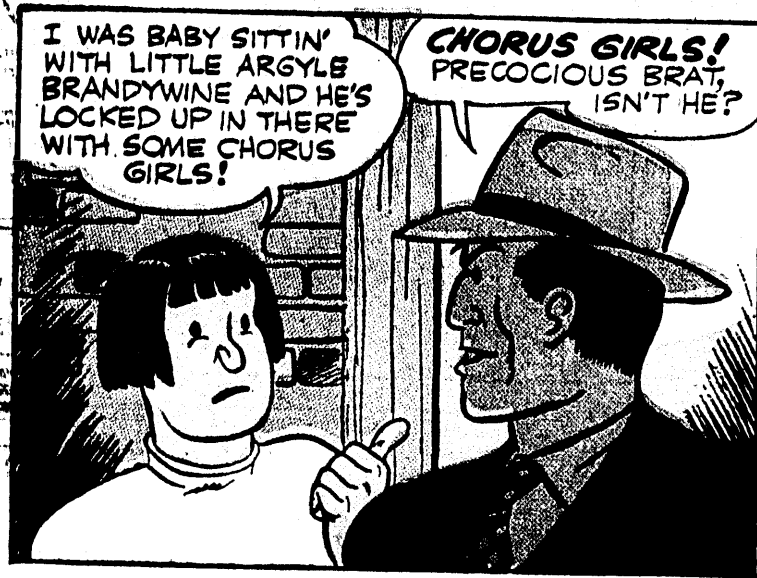

THANKS TO HERO-- I GOT MY SECOND CHANCE!

DADDY MAY HAVE A DOLLAR-FIFTY TO BUY SOME PUZZLES AND GO TO THE MOVIES?

A DOLLAR-FIFTY!

POO-- MAY I HAVE TWO DOLLARS TO GO TO THE BALL GAME AND HAVE A SWIM?

GREAT SCOTT! CHILDREN REQUIRE A LOT OF MONEY THESE DAYS!

WHEN WE WERE KIDS WE DIDN'T GET ANY MONEY-- WE HAD TO MAKE OUR OWN FUN

WHAT DID YOU DO DADDY?

WE'LL LOOK IN THESE OLD DIARIES ALBUMS AND I DID TO A LOT OF OURSELVES WITHOUT SPENDING

OH THIS IS GOING TO BE FUN

LOOK, HERE'S A PICTURE OF ME MAKING A SAILBOAT OUT OF OLD BOXES

AND ON THURSDAY I AMUSED MYSELF MAKING DOLL CLOTHES

SOUNDS TONY TO ME

AND HERE IT TELLS HOW MUCH FUN WE HAD MAKING TAFFY

THAT'S IT-- LET'S HAVE AN OLD-FASHIONED TAFFY PULL

THAT'S IT

I'LL PROVE TO YOU IT'S POSSIBLE TO HAVE FUN WITHOUT SPENDING MONEY

WE KIDS USED TO ENTERTAIN OURSELVES FROM MORN 'TIL NIGHT WITHOUT SPENDING A PENNY

TAFFY'S READY-- NOW EVERYBODY GRAB A HANDFUL AND START PULLING

I WANNA GO TO THE MOVIES!

THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT IT I MUST'VE FORGOTTEN

MAMA, AFTER WE CLEAN THIS UP MAY I GO TO THE BALL GAME?

I FIGURE, WITH THE DAMAGE AND ALL THAT COST US FIFTEEN DOLLARS! HAVE YOU ANY MORE GOOD IDEAS?

NOW I WANT YOU TO MINGLE WITH THESE PEOPLE-- THEY ARE THE LEADERS AND ELITE OF SOCIETY-- YOU'LL LEARN A LOT!

THEY MAY BE LEADERS-- BUT THEY'RE NOT GOING ANYWHERE!

HUH! I CAN'T THINK OF HIS NAME-- BUT I DO REMEMBER HE OWES ME TEN DOLLARS!

OH--MR. OTTO PAYOLI-- IT'S A CHARMING EVENING-- ISN'T IT?

I HOPE IT DOESN'T RAIN TOMORROW-- I'M GIVING A GARDEN PARTY !!!

OH--YAWS-- BEAUTIFUL DAY ALL DAY-- FINE WEATHER!

RAWTHER WARM TONIGHT!

OH--I THINK THE WEATHER WILL CONTINUE MILD-- LOOK AT THAT MOON!!

I UNDERSTAND IT'S RAINING IN BAMBO-BAMBO--

HE SURE IS REACHING OUT FOR WEATHER!

AW--MAGGIE! PLEASE-- DON'T TALK ABOUT THE WEATHER!!

I DIDN'T SAY ANYTHING ABOUT THE WEATHER--

WELL--YOU'RE THE ONLY ONE WHO HASN'T-- BUT YOU MIGHT!!

AH! MR. JIGGS! AND HOW ARE YOU THIS FINE EVENING? NICE WEATHER-- DON'T YOU THINK??

I DON'T HAVE TO THINK-- EVERYONE TELLS ME!

I SAY-- MR. JIGGS-- NICE TO SEE YOU-- NICE WEATHER-- DO YOU THINK IT WILL CONTINUE??

FROM ALL TH' REPORTS I GIT-- I DON'T KNOW--

BEFORE YOU SAY ANYTHIN' I THINK IT MAY OR MAY NOT RAIN !!!

I WAS JUST GOING TO ASK YOU ABOUT THE WEATHER-- YOU KNOW-- MY PIANO GETS OUT OF TUNE IN DAMP WEATHER!!

WELL--HASN'T IT BEEN A WONDERFUL EVENING? SUCH AN INTELLIGENT GATHERING! I HOPE YOU PROFITED WHETHER YOU LIKED IT OR NOT!!

WELL--YOU'RE THE ONLY ONE WHO HASN'T-- BUT YOU MIGHT!!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

BY LYMAN YOUNG

THE LIGHT COMING FROM THE HOLE IN THE FLOOR, IN FRONT OF THE THRONE, MUST BE FROM THE MYSTERIOUS ORE !...

IT'S THE SOURCE OF THE ORE! NOW ALL I HAVE TO DO IS GET RID OF YOU TWO AND THEN FIGURE OUT A WAY TO GET THE ORE OUT OF HERE!

THIS IS THE END OF THE ROAD... STAND OVER THERE AGAINST THE WALL !...

NOW OR NEVER, TIM! GRAB HIM!

TIM! I GRABBED THE EAGLE'S CLAW AND THE THRONE IS MOVING!
